

Here, There Around Town

By Local Observer

The first woman in Newmarket to be called for jury duty received her notice on Friday, March 13. She is Mrs. Elman Campbell. "As yet, I haven't decided whether the 13th was lucky or unlucky for me. Perhaps I shall be challenged. But at least I plan to answer the call and be ready to serve if I am needed," she said.

Mrs. Campbell is to appear in court room number 3, City Hall, Toronto, on Tuesday, April 7. Among her interests in Newmarket, Mrs. Campbell could list her presidency of the Women's Institute, executive member of the Girl Guide Local organization, Women's Association, Trinity United church, Canadian National Institute for the Blind and other organizations. We wonder who will be next to receive her call to jury duty?

This next item comes under the classification of being beyond the call of duty. Recently one of the members of the town's water department, George Blake, was needed for transfusions. Two hospital. Mr. Blake has been bothered with ulcers for some time.

Last week word was received by the department that blood was needed for transfusions. Two volunteers, fellow workers with Mr. Blake in the town's employ, answered the call and gave the necessary blood. They were Harry Londry and Jack King.

For a few seconds at council meeting on Monday night, it seemed that the mayor, Joseph Vale, might be in the Abbey for the coronation ceremonies. A letter was read suggesting that Mr. Vale represent the town at the coronation and informing him that a seat was available for him within the Abbey.

There was only one flaw in the entire plan. Also contained in the letter was the phrase, "at the mayor's expense." Oh, to have come so close and yet to miss philosophically we suggest to the mayor, maybe he wouldn't have been a good sailor.

No one can please all the people all the time. The following information will prove a source of relief for the majority of residents in Newmarket. And yet, we can force many sad faces among the younger members of the community, particularly the male section.

There will be no sale of firecrackers in town until ten days prior to the Victoria Day holiday. A by-law, namely 1,202, was amended to read that fireworks could not be sold or displayed for sale except for 10 days prior to that holiday. That's rather grim news, isn't it fellows! On the other hand, it gives us that many more days of grace to navigate Main St. in safety.

MYSTERY CONTEST

Currently appearing in the window of the Roxy Theatre from today on will be clues to Newmarket's "Prisoner of Zenda" mystery man. He is a well known citizen of Newmarket. Readers may find further information about the mystery man contest on the back page of this week's special supplement.

CONCERT CAMPAIGN

The Canadian Concert Association to Newmarket reports a good response this week in its campaign for new memberships for 1953-54. The campaign ends on Saturday. Canvassers may be contacted or tickets may be purchased at Ang West's store, Main St.

Community Shocked By Tragic Accident

Services Held For Three Killed In Friday's Crash

The community has still not recovered from the shock of a tragic accident which took the lives of three well-known residents of the Newmarket district last Friday night. In an auto crash at the gates of her home, Inniscarra Farm, Yonge St., a few hundred yards south of Eagle St., Alice Hawkes Robinson, her son Hawkes and his wife, Anna, died shortly before ten o'clock.

The three members of the Robinson family had dined out together after Mrs. Robinson's return home from Florida that day. They were returning south on Yonge St. to Inniscarra in Mrs. Robinson's car. They were about to turn off the highway into the laneway at Inniscarra when their car was struck in the rear by a southbound auto.

Occupants of the southbound car were Peter Penak, 24, and Allan Aistrop, 31, both of Barrie. They were taken to York County hospital. The cars exploded on impact and both cars burned. Police evidence has now established the fact that the occupants of the Robinson car died instantly.

The funeral service for Mrs. Robinson was held at Inniscarra Farm on Tuesday morning at 11 a.m. Entombment was in Corning, N.Y. where she was born. St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket, was filled with people who attended the service for Hawkes Robinson at 2 p.m. on Tuesday. Service for Anna Robinson was held yesterday at 2 p.m. at Kinloss Presbyterian church near Lucknow.

Mrs. Robinson was born in Corning, N.Y. Her husband, the late Dr. E. H. Robinson, who was a native of Hamilton, predeceased her in 1948. The Robinson family came to Inniscarra Farm in 1939 and is a well known family in the district. Surviving Mrs. Robinson is a daughter, Mrs. McGregor Young, York Mills and a brother Samuel Hawkes, Corning, N.Y.

She was a well known member of the Toronto and York Hunt club and the Eglington Hunt club. She was very interested in the farm, particularly interested in horses and the raising of pure breeds of cattle. During the last war she volunteered for the army. The only possible way for her to enlist in the C.W.A.C. was to join as a cook, which she did. She is remembered for her spirit and enthusiasm by many who served with her at the Newmarket camp. She served in the army for three years as an assistant driver.

She had served overseas with the British Red Cross in France. It was there that she met Dr. Robinson who was also serving in France as a surgeon.

Hawkes Robinson was also well known in Newmarket and district. He was always interested in people and was community minded. He farmed on the town line west of Yonge St. on what is known as the Louis farm.

Hawkes served in the British merchant navy during the second world war on a Norwegian ship. He too was interested in pure-bred cattle and was an enthusiastic farmer.

His wife, Anna, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Graham, Lucknow, is also survived by two brothers and four sisters. A sister, Mrs. John Lowndes, resides near Mount Albert.

Funerals at the service for

Mrs. Robinson at Inniscarra were McGregor Young, P. H. Cunningham, R. T. Nichol, Tom Mulock, Kenneth Russell and Harold Craig. Honorary pallbearers were George L. Robinson, R. Wylie Hart, John Meldram and Col. W. P. Mulock.

Pallbearers at St. Paul's church for Hawkes Robinson were W. B. Wellington, R. Sandford Hart, Donald Snell, Tom Lowndes, Herbert Boden, John A. Edwards, George Anning, John Bull, George Malcolm, Ross Rudolph, Donald MacDonald and John Sage of Corning, N.Y.

John C. Perry, Maple, a noted airman in the last war, is opening a new store in King City. Mr. Perry graduated in pharmacy after he returned from duty with the R.C.A.F. He was in a pathfinder squadron overseas. He has one drug store in Maple. The new drug store will be the first in the King community.

REEVE DELIVERS LONG REPORT ON WATER DEPARTMENT

A half-hour report on the function of Newmarket's water department was given at Monday night's council meeting by Reeve Evans.

Mr. Evans said that the water system has a 537,000 gallon capacity and that average daily consumption is 450,000 gallons. His report indicated that there is no danger of a shortage of water for the municipality. He told of the new wells and test drilling which the department has been doing for the past number of years.

The department is a self-sustaining unit and derives its revenue from the charge of one sixth of a cent per cubic foot," said Mr. Evans. In 1947 meters were supplied for all water users in the municipality.

To the suggestion that Newmarket might do better by piping water from Lake Simcoe rather than by acquiring it from local wells, Mr. Evans said, "I don't know where we would get the money from."

YORK FEDERATION PRESENTS BRIEF ON DAIRY FARMING

The York County Federation of Agriculture presented a brief to Major A. A. McKenzie, M. P. E., at a meeting in Woodbridge last week regarding Bill 71 of the legislature.

The brief stated that there were 106,000 dairy farmers in Ontario, 1,400 processing plants which employ 2,300 people. The retail value of dairy products was said to be $3,000,000 and that about 45 percent of it was received by people other than farmers. In countries which allow edible oils to compete with dairy products, the sale of dairy products have been reduced 50 percent, the brief stated.

It was stated that 14 percent of Ontario labor would be affected by any saving to the consumer by substituting dairy products. The saving would be more than offset by a loss in wages, it was said.

After the brief was presented questions were asked as to why no names had been attached to publicity put out by the edible oil institute.

RED CROSS DRIVE BRINGS $3,673.36

The Red Cross "blitz" campaign held on March 19 in the Newmarket district met with a generous response and although all returns are not in yet, receipts to date amount to $3,673.36.

Any persons who were overlooked in the campaign who have not yet contributed, may do so at the Bank of Toronto where official receipts will be given.

The officers of the Newmarket branch of the Red Cross express thanks to all those who in any way assisted during the campaign.

Firefighters Burned Sat. At Farm East Of Sharon

A citizen of Mount Albert who volunteered to fight a farm fire near Sharon Saturday became a human shield against the force of an oil barrel explosion, saving the life of at least one man while seriously injuring himself. The fire was at the home of Ken Pinder, fourth concession of Whitchurch.

George Green, Mount Albert, was taken to York County hospital suffering severe burns as well as shock.

Green was one of many citizens who volunteered to fight a blaze at Ken Pinder's farm. He was given a heavy fireman's coat while Newmarket fire lieutenant, John Gibson, Betsford St., directed a hose. Green shielded him from the heat.

When the oil drum blew up, Green acted as a shield to Gibson. Green's clothes were splattered with oil and caught fire. Firemen rolled him on the ground to put out the flames. A frame back kitchen and woodshed burned to the ground in the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Pinder and their two children were away in Newmarket all day.

They returned home to find their house in flames. Neighbors had carried out every piece of furniture and began a bucket brigade fight against the flames which endangered the main part of the house and the barns. Fire brigades came from Newmarket, Holland Landing and Mount Albert.

The Queensville fire department did excellent work with a small chemical unit on a trailer. The fire was kept under control for a short time until the chemicals ran out. Then dozens of farmers formed a bucket brigade from the well until other brigades came.

Ratepayers Announce Organization Meeting, Will Plan Objectives

An organizational meeting of the Newmarket Ratepayers' association will be held on Tuesday, March 31, 8 p.m. in the Firemen's auditorium. Eric Hardy, director of the Citizens Research Institute will be the guest speaker.

"A Ratepayers' association is a very good thing for a town from every point of view," said John Chappell, chairman of the citizens' committee which has held the preliminary meetings prior to the organization of an association in Newmarket. "I can tell you the aims of other ratepayers' associations but as the Newmarket one has not been established, it has no constitution. Ratepayers' associations are auxiliary units to council. They act as a liaison committee between the public and their elected representatives and co-operate with each in maintaining smooth relationships."

"In Lansing where a Ratepayers' association has been organized and is functioning successfully, it was largely responsible for obtaining postal delivery for that municipality. That was only one of the successful projects of the Lansing association and which might become a local project."

"Ratepayers' associations are training grounds for future councillors and school board trustees. Candidates for municipal office will make better town representatives if they have become familiar with town projects prior to seeking office. A Ratepayers' association is not a 'Beef Society' but attempts to create and stimulate interest in educational and municipal matters. In most centres where such associations have been organized, they have been of great assistance to the councils. "A Ratepayers' association can act as a barometer registering public opinion. It can screen many of the annoying things that take up a councillor's time as it can become a listening post to which members direct their questions, suggestion or complaints. When an association has many members in favor of a certain thing being done, then the organization would advise the appropriate department or committee of these opinions or constructive criticisms."

A cordial invitation is extended to all interested persons in the community to attend the general meeting in the Firemen's auditorium on Tuesday night, March 31, when Mr. Hardy will explain the aims and objectives of a ratepayers' association.

Federation For Strong Farm Organizations To Fight Edible Oils

The question of edible oils was uppermost in the minds of farmers attending the King township federation of agriculture meeting at Laskay last Thursday.

This meeting of the last township unit of the federation to be formed in York County was a lively one with most of the important issues facing farmers today thrashed out by an outspoken and well qualified panel.

Fred Hayward of the economics branch of the Ontario department of agriculture provided the facts. Cecil Belyea represented the federation's point of view.

Jim Hope, Newmarket, a veteran of farm organizations, and director of the Toronto district milk producers represented the practical viewpoint. Under the chairmanship of John Kudelka, Newmarket, such questions dealt with were "What is wrong with farm organizations?" and "The future of agriculture in this area."

There was general agreement that farm organizations should be tightened up and streamlined. Some members of the audience felt the need of a straight membership organization and the need for holder leadership. Others pointed out that the greatest difficulty is the apathy of the membership and the lack of funds to

Mount Albert Hort. Society Offers Seeds To School Children

The Mount Albert Horticultural Society will give two packages of seeds to each pupil who will plant and care for them. The Fall Show is held usually during the last week in August.

The children will be given an opportunity to show their vegetables and flowers grown from the seeds of the following: beets, carrots, cosmos, zinnias and French Marigolds. The teachers are asked to report the number of seeds required by April 2. The five schools in the community will be given these seeds.

TWO MISSING BOYS TURN UP AT HOME

Two 12 year-old boys from Musselman's Lake, missing for 24 hours, turned up at their homes last night, having hitchhiked to Kitchener and back. One had nine cents in his pocket, the other, one cent.

The two boys, Frank McKibben and Douglas Grenstead were supposedly on their way to school at Ballantrae the previous day but when it was discovered they were not at school during the day, their parents started a search. They were warmly clad and only hungry when they returned to their homes last night.

The panel brought out the unpleasant fact that farmers today are a small minority, and as such, no longer represent a strong political factor as they did 20 years ago. Indignation was high against the high pressure publicity campaign and "misrepresentations" carried on by the edible oil interests. The federation, however, as represented by Mr. Belyea, felt that farmers should not stoop to answer on the same level. "We want to act wisely," he said. A large part of the meeting, however, felt that farmers should "fight fire with fire."

County Oppose Federation Bill Wants Time

York County council held a special meeting on Tuesday to discuss bill 80, recently introduced in the Ontario legislature to provide a federation of Toronto's suburbs into a metropolitan area. A special committee headed by the Warden, Asa Cook, passed a resolution requesting that the third and final reading of the bill be held over until next fall. The report indicated that the 14 northern municipalities would be left by federation to form the remainder of the county, would be under a heavy financial burden unless changes were made in policy on roads.

Auditors' figures were provided to show that the 14 municipalities would shoulder increased levies after federation to pay for the upkeep on county roads. It was suggested that the province or the proposed metropolitan area take over responsibility for some of the York county roads in the northern townships.

Auditors' figures showed that estimated increases in the levy for Newmarket would be $28,591; for Aurora, $18,409; for East Gwillimbury $16,492. Total increase to the north would be $208,262.

The resolution stated that unless changes were made in Bill 80, "grave injustices will result to those municipalities not included in the federated area."

GORHAM ST. PARKING

The elimination of parking on Gorham St. was recommended by the council's police committee in a report by Councillor Lorne Paynter Monday night.

Councillor Bowser opposed the recommendation which was put into the form of a police order motion for the next meeting. "It would make the street a good-way," said Mr. Bowser. "There have been a number of accidents on Gorham St. already."

AN ALMOST SUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO BREAK THE TIE

The Newmarket bantam hockey team has created hockey history by reaching the O.M.H.A. finals. A replay of two final games with goals to count was required after last Saturday's 4-4 tie with Goderich in an exciting game with 30 minutes of overtime play. Last night's first game in the replay series also ended in a tie 2-2. The deciding game will be in Goderich Saturday. In the action picture above, in the last 10 minute overtime period, one overtime thrust by Dan Patrick (No. 12) against the Goderich goal almost brought Newmarket its first O.M.H.A. title. Jack Brooks can be seen waiting to snap in the rebound but Goderich goalie Bob Fisher, with defenseman Art Stubbington towering over him, smothered the shot.

We receive much "free publicity" at our desk. If we saved the paper from publicity handouts throughout the year, probably we would have enough pulp to print one week's issue.

Many people make a good living writing free publicity handouts. Public relations firms flourish and huge sums must be paid to people who produce it.

Some of it is "legitimate" in our opinion and some is not. Publicity material is sent to us by the department of agriculture and the Ontario Agricultural College and it has useful information in it for farmers. From the amount of farm material we receive from Toronto and Ottawa though, we cannot but feel that there is a tremendous waste for we could be filling many pages with the amount that goes into the wastebasket.

The material we consider absolutely not "legitimate" advertises someone's product in a "newsy" way. In other words, a story is written about a product for which the seller ought to be paying money to promote it through advertising. The promoter hopes that the story will look enough like a news story to be slipped into the news columns free of charge.

This sort of material comes each day by mail and piles of it clutter up our desk. Amidst all the material this week, however, we did find one which we felt for. This particular piece of public relations matter, publicity material, handout or whatever you may call it was scribbled in pencil on the back of a memorandum pad.

It happens that the poet is a local poet who is just trying to get along so it makes it a little closer to being "legitimate". Because it has a rural, home-made quality about it, we decided to use it as follows:

"I'm no poet and I know it
But this jingle, oh so jerky,
May just convey to you today
The thought of serving turkey.

So be at rest and serve the best,
With a conscience clear, you'll slumber;

My Easter flock will stand the shock
Of diminishing its number.

When freshly killed and only chilled

It is sure to be full flavored.
Bear this in mind that I may find

By your order I've been favored

There were instructions to add some information at the bottom that the writer's advertisement about his turkeys would be found on such and such a page. We will leave this to the readers to find.

In spite of the metre we are thinking of sending his name into a well known public relations firm and recommend him for a job. After all, it was more interesting to us than much of the "handout" material we have been receiving from the big city public relations firms. We think so, anyway.

THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-SIXTH DAY OF MARCH, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-THREE

BURDEN FOR THE NORTH

York County council held a special session on Tuesday of this week to discuss Bill 80, the metropolitan area federation bill which is undergoing second reading in the Ontario legislature. Warden Asa Cook's special committee representing the northern municipalities which would compose the remainder of the county after federation, presented a report which requests that the third and final reading be held over until next fall.

The committee's report points out that unless provincial road grants are made to the northern municipalities after the federation, or that some other arrangements are made, there will be a heavy financial burden on the northern group. The 1953 county levy on the northern municipalities for road purposes was $77,188. The estimated levy in 1954, after federation would be $303,444, according to an auditor's report. For Newmarket alone it would mean an increase of $7,963 for roads.

Total county levy in 1953 was $17,582 for Newmarket and the estimated levy after federation would be $46,173, an increase of $28,591. The Warden's committee seems justified in its proposal that "other compensation should be made to the northern municipalities either by the proposed Metropolitan council or by the Province of Ontario" than what is suggested or provided for in Bill 80.

A resolution by the special committee suggests that the loss could be greatly reduced or even eliminated "if the remaining county could be relieved from the estimated cost of maintaining a disproportionate amount of the mileage of county and suburban roads and if the major items of estimated county expenditure were reduced by transferring the corresponding services either to the individual suburbs or to some type of Metropolitan authority which would include them".

It was resolved that the members of the county council from the northern group declare themselves of the view that if Bill 80 in its present form is adopted, "a grave injustice will result to those municipalities not included in the federated area".

It also appears justified that the north ask for a longer period to study the bill. As the committee report states, it took months to prepare the bill but municipal councils, officials and the public have been allowed less than six weeks to study and digest the extensive legislation.

ANY MAIN ST. POLICY?

With the coming of Spring, residents of Newmarket will be looking forward to green lawns, flowers and gardens and the tearing up of Main St. One of Newmarket's greatest projects in many years will be the Main St. project when new roadbed, pavement and new sidewalks will be laid down.

Main St. people, however, are still asking about the town's policy on the width of pavement and sidewalks. With such a narrow Main St., it is an important point. According to an announcement some months ago it was understood that a meeting between the council's Main St. project committee and Main St. property owners would be held so that there would be complete understanding on the proposed width of sidewalks and pavement. The proposed meeting is long overdue and nothing has been heard about it for many weeks.

Property owners would no doubt like to know whether any frontage on private property is to be required by the town in constructing the best possible pavement and sidewalks. It might be suggested that a meeting be held before the project starts.

RATEPAYERS ORGANIZE

A ratepayers' association is being formed in Newmarket and plans are made for an open meeting on March 31. One of the speakers will be a representative from the Citizens Research Institute of Canada.

Government in a democracy is everyone's business. Good government is everyone's need. But it doesn't happen automatically, say the institute workers. The usefulness of research in modern industrial and business life is beyond argument. Most large companies find it a paying proposition to spend substantial sums of money in order to find new and better ways of doing their work. In all competitive undertakings a constant search after improved processes and practices is required for survival.

With governments it is quite different. There is no automatic check on their efficiency and with the power to tax and tax heavily there is not the same inward urge to build and maintain the best brand of service at the least possible expense. Consequently, informed proposals for improvements and economies are needed from outside the government ranks.

The Citizens Research Institute was launched to meet this need. On a smaller scale, the Newmarket ratepayers association is being formed to meet a similar need. As a fully independent research organization, a local ratepayers' association, like the institute, can make a continuous study of the facts of local government, to present its findings in an understandable manner and bring the facts before the interested ratepayers.

A good ratepayers' association could be an asset to the community and promote better understanding of local government. It could be helpful to the town council and to the ratepayer by enabling the council to understand what most of the citizens think and enabling the citizens to understand how their own government acts.

NO MERIT IN POVERTY

We have said before that persons who accept public office should have thick skins. They ought to be prepared for abuse. Such requisites may discourage persons considered capable and who are held to be desirable as representatives for a civic council. But if they have not the courage to stand up to criticism, it may be presumed that they are not persons fit for public office.

On a later occasion we said that the risks of personal criticism and the personal sacrifices made by elected servants are to be accepted but we see no reason why a man should be deprived of his personal income so that he may serve the citizens well.

We were thinking of local situations. We were thinking of the local school boards or councils and on the latter occasion, we were concerned about one particular individual who was being deprived of income because there was criticism about his income coming from public funds paid as insurance premiums.

The same sort of situations can occur at any level of government, whether it be on a town council or in the federal government. It is interesting to note that the Financial Post refers to "one of the nastiest pieces of political business we have seen in a long time". It goes on to describe the attempt made in the Commons to smear George Prudham because he bought a building from the Canadian National Railways. Prudham is Minister of Mines.

This was followed by sundry cynicisms implying that men in public life are not to be trusted and that it is their habit to use their office for personal gain, the Post says. Some of the chatter stirred up seemed to suggest that we should do as they did in the United States when "Moters Charlie" Wilson had to get rid of his General Motors stock before taking his place in Eisenhower's cabinet.

This is a poisonous concept. When did lack of monetary success become a badge of merit or honesty? When did poverty become another word for goodness or wisdom?

We do not believe that men who reach eminence in Canadian public life are crooked or slippery. Whether or not they retain their business interests has no influence whatever on how they handle the country's affairs.

RELIGION IN THE UNIVERSITIES

Many people agree with University of Toronto's president Sidney Smith that universities offer too little religious teaching, a Financial Post poll shows. But while a greater emphasis on spiritual values in university curricula is widely agreed, some doubt is expressed, particularly by university officials, that there is any practical way of increasing religious teaching without offending denominational sensitivities among the Christian community and the sensitivities of other faiths. One respondent fears "a new round of ill feeling, bickering and criticism if religious teaching is extended in institutions supported by public funds."

Courses in comparative religions are suggested by a number of respondents to poll. Robert Rourke, headmaster of Pickering College, Newmarket, said:

"Many educators have pointed out that the basic problem of our age is one of moral and spiritual values. I believe that all schools and universities should strive unceasingly to help young people to find faith to live by. I do not see how religion can be separated from education. We need more stress on the fundamental teachings of Jesus and their application to the whole business of living.

Recent new proposals of the Department of Lands and Forests include the information of co-ordinating committees in Northern Ontario districts to plan Crown Lands use for recreational purposes. Thus today's youth will be assured of tomorrow's hunting and fishing in the most desirable areas. While some lands will be kept as wilderness areas and others will be refused for recreational purposes to prevent forest fires, other northern areas will be planned out for tourists and fishermen.

The Top Six Inches by "Dairy Farmer"

There has been, or maybe we should say, there are two labor disputes "on the go" right now which affect farmers in a very direct sort of way. One is the grain handlers' strike out West which has hurt and is hurting the Saskatchewan grain growers very seriously and the other is the strike at Stratford.

Reading the reports of these events, we have trouble keeping calm and reasonable and we have to keep saying to ourselves that after all, no laws of the land are broken and these workers are doing what they have a perfect right to do. They are exercising a freedom which a large part of the world has fought a war to protect.

And yet there seems to be a line somewhere that should divide a labor dispute fought over wages and working conditions, affecting only the employer and the employee, and a labor dispute where a third party gets involved very innocently and suffers untold and often irreparable damage.

After all when a shop full of workers strike for higher wages, both sides seem to be affected about equally. The employer loses because of sales lost and because of his inability to fulfill contracts he probably has. The worker loses his wages which are presumably his only source of income. Both parties are equally affected and it is up to them to meet; depending on the urgency of their case they will bargain fast or slowly.

But what about the dispute that involves a service which, outside the employer and employee, affects a very large number of people and people who have no way of presenting their case to the parties who are having their spat. It is easy to imagine that a small group of people, having an argument which always has a lot of personal angles to it would forget the main issue, that is the service they are expected to provide.

There is very little sympathy for the management involved in a case like the grain elevators' strike that would tie up a million dollar business and threaten the livelihood of thousands of farmers for about 125 cents per hour. Management in the past hasn't hesitated to transfer the charges on the consumer. It seems foolish not to do it in this case. And one must admit that labor can get very restless when confronted with arguments suggesting that they must not strike because of the service involved and that they try to override all their arguments with this. Neither is our sympathy with labor, in this case. We just doubt if a strike ever settles anything.

Strike as a possibility may be a good point in negotiating. It is doubtful if strike as a fact is a very good argument. More coolness and more thinking should have been used. Labor will have to make up its mind one of these days that there is some sort of responsibility involved, in this case on a national scale. An appeal to the growers' organization might have accomplished, at the right time, more than the actual strike.

What is more, the laws of this country should be amended in such a way that a labor dispute involving a service of national importance should be made a three-cornered affair with the parties most affected, the farmers in this case having a seat at the conference table. Just as in war, there is no winner to a dispute like this. Neither is there a winner in a dispute that involves the gassing of chicks, a factor that could well be reflected in the increased cost of living.

There is only one conclusion we can reach. This seems to be a fact popping up in any question involving labor and that is that there should be more voice to our Federation in all questions involving a labor dispute that has some relation to farm production.

HOUSEWIFE BAGS SECOND WOLF

Brush wolves in Algoma, Ont., district had better beware of a sharpshooting housewife who recently killed her second wolf in a year. The markswoman, Mrs. Roy Beharrell, almost bagged a third but her shooting was a little off. Here Mrs. Beharrell shows gun with which she felled the second wolf. Not sure he was dead, she finished the job by beating the animal with her son's hockey stick.

Our readers write

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

Dordrecht, Holland,
March 13, 1953.
Dear Sir: Maybe you are somewhat surprised to receive this letter from Holland but I will clear up the matter.
I am a reader of your newspaper which I get at times from my best friend, Mr. Ooyen, King St., Mount Albert. In the edition of Feb. 12, 1953, my attention was caught by the Dutch rubric and it was very interesting to read a pretty good Dutch in your Canadian paper.

You asked your Dutch readers if they are interested in this weekly rubric in the Dutch language and in connection to this I am convinced of the fact that it is very pleasant for you even to hear an enthusiastic sound from Holland. Notwithstanding
I am of opinion that for all Dutch-Canadians the best will be to participate in Canadian life in every respect, I can imagine and I also experienced that they are extra pleased to get some messages in the well-known language of their mother country.

In order to help you in your sympathetic efforts to create a lively Dutch rubric I will write from time to time some lines for this rubric about things and events which might be interesting for your Dutch readers. If you accept my proposition you can place the following article in Dutch. This article gives some further details about the terrible disaster in Holland and it pays our thanks for all sympathy and enormous help we got.
Please will you be so kind to let me know what you think about this?

Gert I. Roeland,
Louis Apolstra, 4,
Dordrecht, Holland.

News Uit Holland

(Although it had been decided to abandon the idea of a Dutch language column in the Era and Express because some Dutch-Canadians thought it would not help newcomers to adjust themselves to a new way of life, we publish here what has been sent by a reader in Holland. The reader in Holland has taken the trouble to prepare this article and we feel that this bit of news in Dutch will not discourage new Canadians from learning English.—The Editor.)

Dear Gert I. Roeland
Na alle verwarde berichten, die de laatste tijd over de overstromingsramp in Holland de wereld zijn ingezonden is het begrijpelijk, dat vooral langden-oten in het buitenland zich wel eens afvragen: maar hoe staat het er nu precies, by in Holland?
Het is te begrijpen, dat velen van U een tyd tussen angst en vrees hebben geleefd, vooral by het lezen van berichten, die hoe vreeselijk de werkelijkheid al is—toch nog werden overdreven.

De verschrikkelijke waarheid is, dat 175,000 H. Aren vrucht-baar land met goed 600,000 inwoners werden overstromd;
ruim 1850 slachtoffers zijn reeds te betreuren. Duizenden won-ingen en boerderijen zijn vern-ield of zwaar beschadigd, terwijl tienduizenden stuks vee verdrinken zijn.

U ziet, deze koude opsomming
van cijfers spreekt boekdelen.
Ik heb persoonlijk reeds
vele overstromde streken bezocht en ook in mijn woonplaats hebben we de ramp medegemaakt, zodat ik zelf getuige van de verschrikkingen ben gewest.

By alle ellende is het echter zeer moedgevend te zien met welk een eenheid en ontzaggelijke energie hier reeds weer aan het herstel wordt gewerkt. U kunt er van overtuigd zijn, dat Nederland het water zijn prooi weer zal ontrukken.
By dit alles stemt het ons hier in Holland tot grote dankbaar-heid, dat de gehele wereld en in het bijzonder ook Canada, waaraan wij door zovele familie- en vriendschaps- banden verbonden zijn, spontaan heb-ben medegeleefd en een daad-werkelijke steun heeft verleend die ongekend was.

Hiervoor een woord van hartelijke dank aan alle initiatiefnemers en milde gevers. En volgend maal hoop ik U iets meer te kunnen vertellen over her-stelplannen en vorderingen.

WELFARE WORKERS
TO SEE WARRENDALE
ON VISIT IN APRIL

The board of Warrendale will be hosts to between 50 and 60 representatives from children's institutions from all over Ontario on April 23, when they visit the new girls' residence in Newmarket.

Two special buses will bring welfare workers and interested citizens to Newmarket from Toronto, where they will be attending the conference and annual meeting of the Ontario association of institutions for children and youth.

Miss Isabel Allen, director of Sunnyside children's home in Kingston and president of the association said that each year the conference committee arranges visits to outstanding institutions. Last year they visited Sacred Heart children's village in Scarborough and the Salvation Army children's home in East York.

In addition to Warrendale this year the group will visit York Cottage in Willowdale.

Private, however they should to correspond with the large private road sign on the south side of the road.

My policy is and always has been free access to Lake Simcoe for all the public, however when owners join together to conspire to defeat the general public of their free right to drive through these roads to the lake, they in turn deserve to be restricted.

Regarding signs, fences and hedges and all obstruction for 66
ft. on the Lakeshore road, these should be removed in conformity with the Smalley Survey, providing it is held legal by some high court order.

The most difficult title to dispute is the deeded owners improvement expense and care, especially trees planted on the Lakeshore. These owners get title or part title, the same as the township by doing or making improvements to the road.

Stanley Bruels.

Explains Decision To Giving Land Title To Property On Lakeshore

W. Marsh Magwood, Toronto, Master of Titles, recently decided that a controversial piece of land at Roche's Point legally belonged to the owner of a summer estate who had purchased it with the rest of his property.

According to Mr. Magwood, he could find no evidence that the owner's acquiring of legal title to his land could be affected by the existence of a public highway.

Objections were raised by residents of North Gwillimbury several weeks ago when a property owner at Roche's Point sought to obtain legal title to part of his land.

The reasons for objections were based on the assumption that the land involved was a legal right-of-way for an old road which was said to have been laid out in the early part of the nineteenth century, following the "Smalley survey".

W. Marsh Magwood, Q.C., master of titles at Toronto, decided that Mr. J. Dumaresque Smith who owns the property at Roche's Point, should be granted permission to bring his land into the Land Titles Office.

Township residents had thought that a precedent might have been set on policy concerning the lakeshore road. Some interests believed that the old "Smalley" road should be made public again.

In a statement to the Era and Express, the master of titles,
Mr. Magwood, said, "The investigation which I conducted into the title of Mr. and Mrs. Smith satisfied me that they were the owners of the land in question and subject to the publication of the notice, I was prepared to accept their application.

"The objection which was received, claimed that the granting of an Absolute Title to Mr.
and Mrs. Smith in Land Titles of land which they already own by virtue of the records of the registry office, would be depriving the residents of North Gwillimbury of the right of access to the shores of Lake Simcoe.

"The rules to which I have already referred provide that where an objection is made it is my duty to fix an appointment to hear such objection and make a decision accordingly. An appeal from my decision would lie to the Supreme Court.

"You may recall that at the hearing it was not denied that Mr. and Mrs. Smith owned the property concerned, but that the substance of the objection was based upon what is known as the Smalley Survey. No evidence was produced to show the exact position of the road laid out by such survey, but it was proved that so far as Lot 24, Concession 2 (Township of North Gwillimbury) was concerned, the road did not give access to the shores of Lake Simcoe. Further evidence was produced which showed that at some time in the past parts of the said road had been regularly closed and other roads had been opened in lieu thereof. In addition there was produced an Order of the High Court of Justice made in 1911, which declared that the land lying immediately to the west of the land in this application was not subject to any public highway.

"In view of this evidence and of the fact that no objection was made thereto, it was clear that the objection to the application could not be sustained, and accordingly I have made an order that Mr. and Mrs. Smith's application be granted.

"In view of the publicity which has been given this matter, I have felt compelled to explain the position in some detail."

No doubt all our members re-

We hope all our readers will accept one apology for the ab-

I was overcrowded with work; I don't let such important matters slip again.

Our bingo chairman, Jack

the attendance at our last bingo

Tractors come under 'farm improvements', and a temporary lack of ready cash is a poor reason to hold up any farm improvement. That goes for most all farm implements that make for increased production and—thereby—increased income.

Chevrolet Trucks are first because they're finest—feature for feature—in performance, economy and just plain value for your money. Take a look at the cab for example. It's "Driver-Conditioned", seats 3 big men with ease. Full width seat cushions, easy access doors and placing all controls in easy handling range provide unusual driver comfort and convenience. Impressive? Sure it is. But the cab is just one of many Chevrolet "Advance-Design" features that add up to one BIG advantage—Chevrolet trucks are the world's leading money makers on any hauling job. What more proof could you ask than the fact that truck operators, recognizing this, buy more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. Why not see your Chevrolet dealer today?

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Norman Boyd

The funeral service of Mrs. Nellie Viola Boyd, wife of Norman Boyd, Oak Ridges, was held at the Thompson funeral home, Aurora, on Thursday, March 12, conducted by the Rev. D. C. H. Michell, rector of St. John's Anglican church.

Interment was made in King City cemetery, where the graveside was banked with colorful floral tributes, in testimony to the affection in which the deceased was held and the sympathy extended to the husband and eight children. The pallbearers were brothers of Mr. Boyd, Harold, Sharon, Gordon, Newmarket; Bert, Queensville; Delos, Lindsay; Percy, Toronto, and George Dalton, Temperanceville, a brother-in-law of Mr. Boyd.

Mrs. Boyd passed away on March 10 at her Oak Ridges home after a long and incurable malady which she bore with fortitude and patient suffering. She was in her 40th year, and the youngest of her children is a six months old daughter.

The deceased was the daughter of Mrs. Gould, Cedar Brae, and the late George Gould. ## HAS GOOD WORD FOR POLICE WORK SOLVING MYSTERY

Those who refer to "dumb hick cops" will have to argue with Horace Brown, writer of mystery stories, from now on. Mr. Brown, who lives in Newmarket, had a mystery of his own to solve last week, so he took it to the Newmarket police.

His driveway being in a poor condition because of mud, Mr. Brown parked his car opposite his home on Main St. on Tuesday night, placing two wheels on the boulevard strip. When he came out Wednesday morning, he found the whole left side of his car sideswiped. Resting beside the front wheel was a strip of chrome.

That evening, at 6.30, he reported the accident to the Newmarket police, saying he felt there was no chance of finding the other car. Exactly three hours later, Mr. Brown's front doorbell rang and a policeman gave the name of the owner of the car, his residence and his place of business. The matter was adjusted satisfactorily with the owner's insurance agent and no charges were laid.

"One of my favorite characters," said Mr. Brown, "is Napoleon B. Smith in my 'Murder in the Rough'. Napoleon B. is an ex-cop, who simply uses his routine police knowledge to

JACK SMITH WRITES

Ottawa Letter

A weekly letter from the member of parliament for York North.

The number of television aerials in North York increases daily and therefore there is very widespread interest in government policy on television. I can assure you that the matter of policy on television is receiving the careful study and attention of the government. I have received many letters on the subject and while I have answered all personally, I think many others who have not got around to the point of writing may be interested in a few frank facts of government policy.

The number of broadcasting stations is limited by the number of available frequency channels. I have never been a believer in these smart fictional detectives and what happened this week bears me out. It certainly is a credit to Newmarket that it has not only a smart police force but one willing to act so courteously and efficiently for the public good.

So don't talk about "dumb hick cops" to Horace Brown.

See Organizational Work Starting For 4-H Clubs

Farm boys and girls throughout York County are once again looking forward to the organizational meetings of their 4-H Clubs. 4-H Calf Clubs will be organized at Sutton, Schomberg, Sharon, Markham and Woodbridge. The Baby Beef Club is a County Club while the Tractor Club will be in the Schomberg area and open to boys in King Township and the adjoining area in Simcoe. Other Clubs, Swine, Grain and Potato, may be organized according to the interest shown by any area.

With a calf club as an example, 4-H Club work is designed to develop in the club members a personal interest and responsibility in each to have stock of his own. The member develops greater interest in livestock management and production costs as well as a personal sportsmanship and co-operation. Showmanship and livestock judging are also important parts of the club work as well as how to carry on and conduct a meeting.

The age limits for all clubs except the Tractor Club is that members must be 12 years by May 1 and under 21 by November 1, 1953. Tractor Club members must be at least 14 years by May 1 and only one member for each tractor.

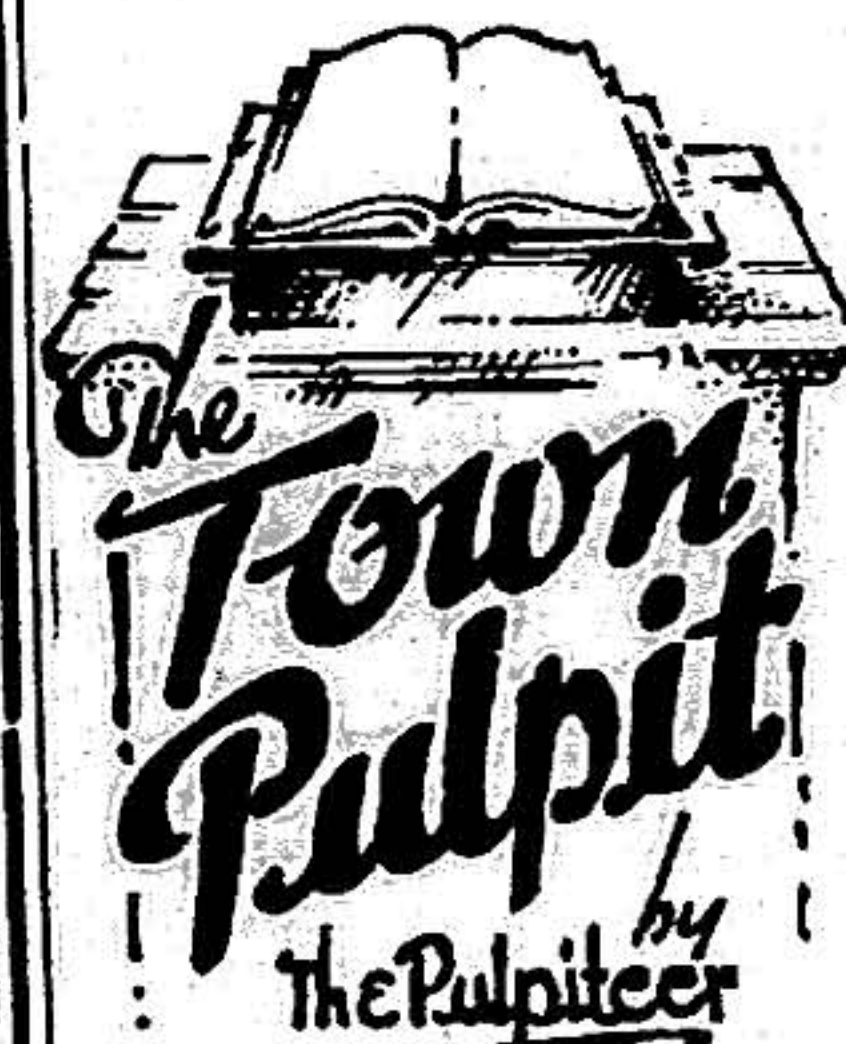

The calf owned by the boy or girl for the Calf Club must be born between January 1 and May 1, except in the Sutton club. Calves may be purebred or grade but in the case of grades they must be sired by a registered bull and out of a cow of the same breeding. Baby Beef steers may be born from May 1, 1952 to Feb. 1, 1953. Junior or Senior heifer calves are eligible in the Baby Beef club.

Clubs must be organized and calves obtained not later than May 1 and prompt inquiry is invited from all interested persons. All parents or the boys and girls themselves who wish to obtain further details, are asked to write or visit W. M. Cockburn or Ed. Pearson of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Newmarket.

C.N.I.B. SPEAKER

D. B. Lawley, Toronto, national supervisor of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Women's association, Trinity United church, Newmarket, on Thursday, April 2, at 2.45 p.m. The association will meet in the Sunday school room.

Mrs. Elman Campbell is in charge of the program. Mr. Lawley, who organized the work for the blind in Jamaica two years ago at the request of the British government, will speak on his work. A cordial invitation is extended to the general public.

Good Friday is almost upon us. I suppose that to many even in our town the day will be no different to any other day. Of course it is understood that we ought to eat hot-cross buns. But why eat that kind of food? What's the difference? Oh well I suppose it is just religion. So what! On and on we go in our just doing things because others are doing the same thing. But stop! Let us consider carefully for a moment and read this column over a couple of times. Give me your ears for about three minutes whilst I tell you about Good Friday.

Some nineteen hundred years ago a Savior died at the place called Calvary. He was buried but rose again the third day. Today He is in Glory. The day of His death on Calvary is remembered as Good Friday. That is why the sign of the Cross is on the top of the buns that you eat on that day.

Now read on, as I become old fashioned enough to tell you of a Savior's love.

"Out of the ivory palaces, down to this world of woe, Only His great eternal love could make my Savior go." The words of the Good Old Book are still precious to all of us "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have everlasting life." He came and died. All He asks you to do is to believe the record "that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself." How simple it is to become a child of God. How difficult we make it for ourselves. This writer would be so happy if someone would just pause long enough to "behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world."

REEVE DELIVERS

Chlorination of water is mild and is only carried out to clear the water of gases. Tests are made monthly by the Ontario Department of health and the York County health unit makes tests from water taps. For the last three years there have been perfect tests.

Any brown color seen in the water is caused by the precipitation of iron, according to the reeve. Gases forming in the water cause aeration.

There are 15 miles of mains in Newmarket. During the year 1952 over a mile of six inch and four inch mains were laid in the newly developed areas in town.

MANY ATTRACTIVE GIFTS and household items can be made from left over pieces of cotton fabrics. Pretty potholders are easy to make, they're inexpensive and add a gay note to the kitchen. Small pieces of cotton fabrics can be used for aprons, curtains and luncheon sets, and when trimmed with the same motif they make an attractive kitchen set. Designs cut from plain or printed materials are equally effective.

Spring Sewing Ahead
Now that the holidays are over, you'll be thinking about what you need to brighten up the home and to replenish your linen supply. It's time too to start thinking about spring sewing for yourself and the children... new clothes, and perhaps new trims for your current favorites. When you're making small items you can take advantage of the many sewing short cuts available. Bias bindings can be purchased all ready made in a wonderful assortment of colors to be used quickly and easily for trimmings, and at the same time to finish the raw edges of bibs, aprons, potholders and luncheon sets. Children's clothing too can be finished and trimmed with cotton bindings. Embroidery can be done on your sewing machine. Some machines have special attachments for embroidery, but many pretty designs can be done easily on all machines by threading the bobbin with pearl cotton, or other similar thread, and stitching the design onto a tracing paper pattern which has been basted to the fabric. After stitching over the paper, tear it away and your embroidery is completed... it's simple, smart and effective. Lace edgings, rick rack braid, buttons and ribbon by the yard all make simple and very good looking finishing touches to many a home-sewn article.

Quilted Potholders
These gay potholders are easy to do. They are made from sturdy cotton with cotton sheet wadding for padding. Machine stitch embroidery is used for trimming and to give quilted effect to the potholder. If you would like to have a leaflet with directions for making the TWO POT HOLDERS, send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper and ask for Leaflet No. R-3471.

NINE YOUNG MEN CONVICTED HERE ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Nine young men appeared in court, Newmarket, before Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake on Tuesday last week on a total of 38 charges following a disturbance on Saturday night, March 14, at Lake Wilcox.

The nine men, John A. Wilkins, Peter Montgomery, Donald Fisher, Charles O'Hara, Robert Gillespie, William Miller, Arthur Burbridge, William Mills and Jack Downey live in York township. Police said that the group entered the home of Mrs. George Nelson, Lake Wilcox, where they staged a drinking party.

Mrs. Nelson was not at home. In charge of her five children, the oldest of whom is six years old, was a baby sitter, Mrs. Verena Einorson. Becoming alarmed when the nine men came uninvited into the house and proceeded to have their drinking party, she left the residence on the pretext of calling Mrs. Nelson. (There was no phone in the house.)

Mrs. Einorson called the provincial police who placed the young men under arrest. While bringing them into the Newmarket jail, one of the men, Charles O'Hara, attempted to escape custody and assaulted Newmarket Deputy Chief, James Leeder. O'Hara was remanded on $1,000 bail on these charges.

Appearing in court, Mrs. Nelson said that the nine were frequent visitors at her home so were welcome there. On this testimony the charge of unlawful entry and being found in a residence with intent to commit an indictable offence were dismissed. The third charge of causing a disturbance was also dismissed by the crown.

Each of the nine was convicted of unlawfully consuming liquor in a place other than their own residences and were sentenced to $50 or 30 days in jail.

SENTENCE TWO FOR THEFT AT BIRRELL'S GARAGE

A conviction was brought against two men, former employees of Birrell's Garage, when they appeared in Magistrate's court on Tuesday. Jack Youngcliss, 26, was convicted of receiving stolen goods and Charles Redpath, 38, was convicted of break and enter and theft charges. On Tuesday each received a sentence of six months.

Birrell's Garage was broken into on the night of March 6 with $880 being stolen. The money was the payroll for Saturday. From Youngcliss the sum of $420 was recovered and from Redpath the police obtained $150.

One of the men was arrested in Newmarket. In the search for the other, local police travelled over 1,700 miles. The chase took them from the eastern section of the province to Sarnia. Investigating were Chief Constable Joseph Jardine, East Gwillimbury police, and Chief of Police, Byron Burbridge, Newmarket.

Clues as to their whereabouts were given by the hostess in a verse which she had composed. In this treasure hunt, the finder was not the keeper but had to forfeit the present to the honoree.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Langford. She was assisted by Misses Irene Curtis and Shirley Langford.

IT'S A Woman's World

BY CAROLINE ION

This week, Canadians in common with the other member countries in the Commonwealth of Nations are saddened by the death of the royal grandmother, Dowager Queen Mary. Many when hearing of her prolonged illness feared for this grand old lady, that her strength would not be equal to the task of recovery.

The sadness is softened by the fact that death came not untimely as it did for her sons, the late King George VI and the Duke of Kent. A third son predeceased her. Death came after a full life of service and achievement.

Even in her eighties, Queen Mary maintained a busy schedule. This sense of duty is shown in her final requests that no change be made in the Coronation plans for her granddaughter, Queen Elizabeth II.

Her quiet dignity and serenity of spirit endeared her to all. Tragedy, the non-respecter of class or age, was a close companion of hers on several occasions. Her first betrothed died suddenly. Death came as the uninvited guests to the family circle. But perhaps the most difficult task for her as for any mother would be the family break, the friction, misunderstanding and separation which were the by-products of the abdication. These she met and had to meet not as a queen, not as a royal personage, but as a human being, as the mother and wife. Never forgetting her responsibilities, Queen Mary set an example of courage and loyalty which all of us would do well to copy.

With the organization of a ratepayers' association being planned and the inaugural meeting set for next Tuesday, March 31, some excerpts from an address by Mayor J. D. Carmichael, Gananoque, made at the annual convention of the Ontario Municipal association, are quoted.

Mr. Carmichael spoke on the topic, "Why is a ratepayers' association needed and once formed, has it value?"

"An informed ratepayers' association which means, in turn, an informed public, makes it easier for a council to best serve the community as a whole. If you have an informed ratepayers' association, it will look after the 'rabble rousers', a group each municipality seems to have, made up of a dangerous few whose only aim seems to be to spread false rumors, dissensions and misunderstanding."

"On a ratepayers' association you will get men who cannot spare the time to serve on the community's elective bodies but whose occasional advice should prove of value and definite worth to these bodies."

"After all, with the problems facing all municipalities today and the tremendous costs involved, no council made up of six councillors and a mayor should be fearful of results or so confident in their ability that they cannot accept considered advice."

Referring to a specific municipal association, the Gananoque Ratepayers' association, Mr. Carmichael said, "It was a bit difficult to get this organization under way. Now that it has been formed, a constitution drawn up and regular meetings held, the attendance and paid-up membership has increased steadily."

At one meeting the councillors and mayor were invited to attend. They are asked to give the membership some idea of the multitude of jobs handled by a municipal council. An official of a certain organization in town suggested through the press that all ratepayers attend the meeting and criticize the council for the way it was dealing with its problems.

"As it turned out, the meeting did my heart good. Those who might possibly have wrecked the association learned what it was all about. At each attempt to bring up strictly political matters, they were informed by the chairman that the invited guests, the mayor and council were there to define their duties. The chairman informed the few would-be trouble makers that he would not permit these guests to be 'put on the spot'. He then told the meeting that if anyone wished to join the association at its regular meeting, they could do so and air their problems after which constructive criticism

King-Vaughan Semis In Round-Robin Series

Secretary Bill Bregdon reports King-Vaughan league officials have drawn up a busy schedule to declare a league champion. In the semis Schomberg, King City and Kleinburg are going into a round-robin series. Top two teams in that round will then meet in a best two-out of three set, with the winners challenging Bolton for the league diamond.

King City Maroons and Kleinburg provided the semi-finals battle-off action Friday. They battled to a 4-all tie. Trailers 4-0 midway through round two, the Maroons roared back to tie. Walt Bell, Bert Hales, spank in four goals to gain a Harry Lostchuk and Ron Hawman counted in Kleinburg's early surge.

Ron Hodgson sparked King City's rebound with two goals while Ted Rogers and Doug Terry rounded out King's scoring with a goal each.

School League Hockey

There was fun and action galore and even a dispute over who won game one at the arena Saturday as the school league teams bit into their semi-final melon.

Saturday's games were on a sudden-death basis and Leafs tripped Rangers 2-1, Bruins blanked Hawks 1-0, Spitfires smothered Flyers 11-1 and Biltmores edged Marlboros 6-4. That means Leafs and Bruins will vie for squirt loop title while Spitfires and Biltmores will tangle for the Pee-wee crown.

Larry Keffer netted both Leaf goals to put them in the charmed circle. Brian Bales converted Ken Needler's pass into the Rangers' goal. Keith Burling steered in the shot that set the Bruins up as winners over the Hawks.

John Hopper packed in four goals and had three goal support from Terry Budd and Ian Dick to fire the Spits' power-laden attack. Bill LeDrew rounded out the Spits' scoring with a single goal. Gary Broadbent kept the shut-out wolf from the Flyers' doorstep.

Trailing 4-1, Biltmores hit back for four late goals to clip the Marlies. John McKnight's two goals and single sniping by Gord Burgess, Paul Forhan and Bob Keffer made the Biltz' win possible. Walt Tennant slashed in four goals and John Walker grabbed three assists to spark Marlboros.

BUS FOR GODERICH
Anybody for Goderich Saturday? If you're interested in making the trip to Goderich Saturday to add your vocal and moral support to the Smoke Rings bid for an O.M.H.A. title, arrangements are being completed to take one or two buses. ### First Two Lost By The Spitfires

After a start that put them up 2-0 in games in the best of seven group final series with Collingwood Shipbuilders, Newmarket Spitfires dropped behind North York's biggest eighthall when they lost 8-2 and 7-1 decisions to the Bush tribe.

A week ago Saturday night's loss here before the largest crowd of the season, 1,871 payees, was the main Spits' killer as it meant the Morrisons would have to annex the next game in Collingwood to stay alive.

Oddly enough although the score would indicate the Builders ran away with the Saturday decision, it's a bit hard to believe, but the Spits outshot their up-north rivals 38-33, Reggie Westbrook kicking in with one of his better efforts to shut down the Spits' production. Trouble too was the Builders were great opportunists again and their inside the blue-line attack had the Spits' rear-guard bewildered at times.

Cal Patterson and Eddie Bush punched home quickies in just over a minute to set the Builders up as 2-0 first period leaders. Don Gibson, who was later to leave the game due to a fractured cheek-bone, (Ken Broughton's driving shot hit the hard striving pivot man), put away a screened shot that started with Al Shewchuk, then to Bill Johnston, thence to Gibson. The light twinkler gave the big Hub following a chance to whoop it up. Gibson's goal came at 11:53 with Pete Switzer doing a two minute hooking sentence. The Bush tribe re-establishing a 3-1 lead on the strength of Jim Dance's tally at 14:59.

The third round was a nightmare for the Spits as the Bush twinklers got in four blows that stunned the 1,870 odd payees.

Sutton Play Markham Here Tonight

Ellis Pringle will shoot his Sutton Greenshirts out against Markham Eagles here tonight (Thursday).

It's game two in their best of seven senior O.H.A. semi-final series. Markham and Sutton provided the Hub and district clientele with some of the most exciting hockey of the season last winter and this series promises to top even last year's stirring set.

Sutton advanced to the semi-final round when they scored a whisker close 5 - 4 decision over Haliburton here last Thursday. It was a nip and tuck battle right down to the wire. In fact it took a rink long dash by Skip Taylor and a perfect lay out pass to Bill Brett with just 39 seconds remaining to give Sutton their triumph.

Five players were the main cogs in the Sutton triumph. First was Bill Brett with his clinching polish off job. Number two was John Learyd who came up with a four goal performance to keep Sutton in the early hunt as Haliburton forged a 3-2 first period edge.

Regents Tie Semi-Final Set With Mount

The Newmarket and District hockey league's best of five semi-final series between Mount Albert and Newmarket Regents is all tied up at two games apiece.

Coach Murray Edgar couldn't ice a Mount team Tuesday and had to hand the game to the Towners on a silver platter. Fifth and deciding game in their series is scheduled for next Thursday at the arena. Actually the Towners and Mounties got around to playing Tuesday's game on an exhibition basis.

Two goals by Ortie Thoms and a single sniping effort by Cliff Gunn set the Towners up with a 3-1 win over their country cousins. Don "Red" Smith ruined Battlin' Bill Ingram's shut-out with just over a minute remaining.

Third man up for hearty hand claps was Skip Taylor who, along with providing the perfect pass for the game winner, got into the scoring act with an assist on all of John Learyd's goals. Fourth member of the charmed circle was Keith Dunn who played brilliantly in goal to cut down the Haliburton production to four goals.

Although he didn't rate a tumble from the scoreman Ralph Griffith was tops in a penalty killing role and there was plenty of these as the two teams were assessed a total of 51 minutes. Biggest flare up came in the final two minutes when everybody got into the fisting act with Bill Holder and Herb Baker rating five minutes each for their main bout performance.

Down The Centre

By AB. HULSE

Aurora Bears have their backs to the wall and on Thursday night we'll see if fickle fate can continue to jilt the Bruins and perch on the bench of the Ingersoll Reems who lead the semi-final round, 2 games to 0, and have the advantage from here in by winning the toss and the venue for the fifth and seventh games if 'the serious' should last so long. The Bears' management is confident that it will and the players aren't downhearted either.

A resume of the first two games shows as follows: First game in Aurora saw the Bears all over the Reems in the first period and at least two goals better but for McWhinnie's goal tending. Second period saw the Reems take a slight edge and the third period was clearly Ingersoll's as the Bears faded under pressure.

The visiting firemen said McWhinnie had turned in his best game of the year and Rosy Bush of Collingwood claimed the Bears should have wrapped it up in the first stanza. Poor clearing and no oomph from the Bears.

Second game was a heart-breaker. Faced with transportation problems, the Aurora kids barely arrived at 8:30 and had no chance to relax. The result was a quick Ingersoll goal at 3:4. Bob Hanna got that goal at 2:40. Nadolin sent Ingersoll ahead at 7:30, and Stub Edwards made it even at 12:48. Ingersoll drew a penalty in the second and Nadolin romped away for one as Aurora were foiled on a ganging attack.

Williams knotted the count at 3:3 at 7:30 but Vasey gave the Reems the lead at 12:05. The Vasey goal set up loud howls all over the packed arena as it was clearly off-side before the Reems got in Aurora territory. Ash made it 4-4 as the third period started and Bob Veale gave Aurora the lead for the first time at 13:49. Vasey tied it at 15:22 and it looked like overtime. With six seconds to go, Windsor fired home the winner through a maize of sticks and players. It was a lucky shot.

Without taking anything away from Ingersoll, the series might well be tied up now. The small or Ingersoll arena seemed to suit the Bears so that they aren't worrying about having to play there twice in a row. In any event a champion has to take the duke in the other guy's igloo. Monk Shuttleworth and Red Clarke who look after the Ingersoll club, have a better club than the one that met Collingwood in the finals last year. There are nine holdovers. Bill McWhinnie, the goalie, hails from Schumaker and played on the N.O.H.A. juvenile champions and the Porcupine Combines who represented the north in junior "A" last winter. It's his last year in junior. If Aurora can take the Reems they can wrap up the junior "C" trophy. See you on Thursday. Better get there early.

Collingwood Shirts lead their series with Thorold Legion 2-0 but the Niagara Peninsula boys, like Aurora, are starting to come and it may be a real battle yet. Keith Nisbet of Aurora Highlands was at the green-keepers' course held at Guelph O.A.C. last week. He reports the Highlands in great shape from all observation. The 18-hole route will be really something this year.

Woodbridge Legion defeated Coldwater 8-1 in the finals of the minor "B" series at Collingwood on Saturday to take the George Gill trophy and Barrie Legion edged Collingwood 6-5 for the Alex McLean trophy and the Legion minor "A" series. Entries were down this year, due to realignment of age limits, but it's too bad Newmarket and Aurora didn't have an entry. As usual the tournament went off without a hitch and Collingwood Legionnaires played hosts at dinner to the visiting players and officials.

Eddie Williams and Don Clayton, both former Aurora Juniors, are performing with distinction for Five Flyers of the Scottish League this season. Jim Smith, ex-Richmond Hill - Woodbridge player, is also with them. The team plays three games a week. Crowds average around 3,500. Dancing or free skating follows the games which may be the answer to attendance in some centres in Canada. The boys are treated as pros, as they actually are of course, and Eddie says you get practically anything you want "except a steak". All three like it in Bonnie Scotland.

Legion cribbage honors for the district will be decided at Woodbridge on Saturday, April 4. Newmarket Smoke Rings deserve a large contingent of supporters in their jaunt to Goderich on Saturday. It's the best chance Canaltown has had for a hockey crown since 1933. Good luck to Red and all the kids.

NEW SCHOOL INSPECTOR

J. H. Campbell, B.A., B.Paed., has been appointed public school inspector for this district, filling the vacancy caused through the recent death of O. M. MacKillop. Mr. Campbell has taught in the elementary schools in York County has done Inspectorial work in the counties of Simcoe, Oxford, Lincoln and Welland.

Aurora Bears Lose First Two To Reems

It will be all work, work, work from here on in if Aurora Bears plan to tie up the O.H.A. Junior-C title for the next year. Right now, as a result of 6-3 and 6-5 losses, in the first two clashes with Ingersoll Reems, Bears trail 2-0 in games. This semi-final series, which it is, by the way, is a best four of seven heat. Game three goes in the Aurora arena tomorrow (Friday) p.m.

Friday, the Bears opened in driving fashion and turned on great pressure in the opening period. They outskated and outshot the invaders 14-4. Bears could have won it there and then for Messrs. Rowntree-Closs and Clark but despite their best shot advantage couldn't get out of the deadlock with a better than 0-0 stalemate as Reems' goalie, Bill McWhinnie, spent a busy time frustrating their best directed drives.

Bill Maguire poured the first shot into the Ingersoll cage. That first goal of the game came at 7:18 and Maguire's helpmates were Al Williams and Don Egan. Bears lead was so short lived it left the Bears' supporters breathless as Ingersoll came back to tie it six seconds later and go up 2-1 at the 11:25 mark.

Bob Fallis polished off a pass from Bob Veale and Artie Barber to knot it again at 12:05. From there on Ingersoll scored their goals in bunches as they assumed control. They got two a minute apart before round two had run out and applied the clinchers just a little over a minute apart in the final period. In between their two quick eruptions Bill Maguire counted unassisted at the 16 second mark of the third to wind up the Bears' scoring.

Monday's 6-5 loss at Ingersoll was a heart-breaker. The Bears nursed a 5-4 lead down to the 15 minute point of the third. Ingersoll tied it on Vasey's goal and won it with just six seconds remaining as Denny Windsor beat Joe Burke from close in.

Bears' scoremen Monday were Bob Hanna, Grant Edwards, Al Williams, Nobby Ash and Bob Veale.

Specialty Juveniles Win First of Finals

North York's surprise team, Newmarket Office Specialty, took first step towards bringing home the North York Juvenile hockey league crown when they polished off Bill White's Richmond Hill Rose Kings 7-4 at the arena Monday.

It was the first game in a best two out of three round for the league crown. Another repeat performance by the Ken Broughton coached, Eddie Pitt managed, Specialties sets them up as league champs and holders of the Stew Patrick Cup.

It was a rough, rugged session. The sin bin gate swung open to admit 13 "bad chaps". Included in the list was match misconduct sentence to Hill's Gerald Chapman.

It was a 2-2 game for two periods. Then the Specialties suddenly caught fire after Gerald Chapman had all but lifted Geo. Galbraith out of the rink with a terrific body check. From that point on it was all Newmarket as the locals cashed five goals—Hillmen got two—three of the Specialties' goals coming in the final three minutes to break a 4-all deadlock.

Freeman West was the Specialties' big gun with a hat trick job. Two of West's goals came in the final two minutes to clinch the decision. Geo. Davis added two goal, one assist support. Grant Morton completed a three point night with a goal and two assists. Don McKnight was the other Newmarket scorer while Jack Staley and Charlie McGuire got into the scoring act as pass feeders. Dick Corner furnished N.H.L. calibre shot blocking support.

Hill's ace producer was Dave "Red" Hart. Hart kept the Hillmen in the early hunt with first and second period goals and then set up Ron Leuschner for the Hill's number three. Dave Pollitt completed the Hill's scoring.

Bruins And Canadins Tie In N.H.L. Finals

The best of three series for the Optimists' N.H.L. title is shaping up as a real dogfight, judging by the Bruins-Canadins 4-all battle at the arena Friday. Canadins lead the finals 1-0 in games by virtue of a 7-0 overtime decision in the series opener.

Due to the carnival at the arena Friday, Ken Stephens, Optimists' boys work chairman, indicates the third and possibly deciding game will be played early next week.

Last minute penalty was the Bruins' undoing. Up to that point, Bruins, after being down 3-1, rallied to stake out a 6-5 lead. Earl Lothian getting the thumb for a tripping-misconduct stretch and while the Bruinsman sat it out, Bill Forhan, Canucka's every-ready score man, tied it with 40 seconds remaining.

Bob Crouth's hat trick, Grant Morton's two goals along with Bill Forhan's tying goal feathered the Canadins' nest. Don Thoms, Earl Lothian and Geo. Galbraith, repeated the Bruins on the score sheet. Thoms netted three. Lothian potted two and Galbraith hit the mark for a single tally.

Optimist Midgets Meet Noble on For Title

Nobleton Walton's failed in their bid to bring North York its second O.M.H.A. title when they lost 11-0 and 3-2 decisions to Lucknow.

Newmarket Optimists, who have been marking time while Nobleton completed their O. M. H. A. play, will now meet Nobleton for the North York Midget hockey league title. The series is expected to start April 1 in the Nobleton arena with game two scheduled for local attention on April 3.

Bears Swamp Ganoque 13-5

Did someone say Friday, the 13th was unlucky? Well, it certainly wasn't for the Closs-Rowntree-Clark Aurora Bears as they shot in 13 goals to paste Ganoque Jets 15-5 in the Bears' opening try in the O.H.A. junior C playoffs.

In the cleanly waged game, there were four penalties, two each, the Bears had too much scoring power on the ball for the Gans. The Bears rolled into a 6-2 first round lead and out-hustled and outscored the invaders 5-2 in the middle session. Bears completed their scoring spurt with two goals in the final period against one counter punch for the down east lads.

Bears rolled to a 10-2 win in Ganoque to wrap up the series. Bears' next opposition are the Ingersoll Reems.

Vivian Wins Simcoe Junior Hockey Cup

Vivian Foresters are the new champions in the Lake Simcoe Junior Hockey League.

Erupting at a six goals a period clip Vivian left little doubt of their right to the title when they trounced Mount Albert 18-4. That win gave Vivian the best of five finals in consecutive games. Series windup game was played in Newmarket Tuesday. The Foresters are due to pick up the Morton Bros. trophy.

Just about everybody but goal Jini Longrigg got into the Vivian scoring act. Ron Peake was pacesetter with six goals. Doug Forfar scored four and it was hat tricks for Stan Pollard and Norm Brown. Doug Card and Jim Coultice completed the scoring barrage with one each.

Goal getters for the Horace Berwick coached Mounties were Ken Wagg, Harold Harper, Jim Cupples and Orval Jordan.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

Trap-shooting is not, of course, what might be termed a popular sport. It has a limited participation, an even more limited spectator following. So it was but natural that a glittering hockey star, Rocket Richard of Montreal Canadiens, whose feat in breaking the ancient lifetime goals record, 324, compiled by Nels Stewart, should have been voted Canada's athlete of the year.

Richard is the Babe Ruth of hockey, a dynamic showman, a magnetic figure. But it seems as though the selectors perhaps sated by Canada's famine of honours at the Olympic Games, overlooked one of the most brilliant achievements of 1953 by a Canadian youth. We mean the performance of 17-year-old George Genereux of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, the high school boy who won 10 of Canada's total of 30 points, and its only Gold Medal, symbol of Olympic supremacy, when he defeated the greatest trap-shooters in the world. That one so young should win such honours is unusual. That he should lack the acclimac such a performance merits, is unfortunate.

George Genereux's record in his favorite sport is little short of fabulous. He was only 13 years old when he first started to shoot at the Saskatoon Gun Club. His ability was quickly spotted by Jimmie Gulgilia, veteran trapshooting star. Gulgilia was introducing his sons to the clay-target busting business one afternoon, by letting them shoot at birds with a .410 shotgun, when George joined in. This proved to be an important meeting, for, from that time on tournament-wise Gulgilia kept George under his wing and has been his coach and mentor ever since.

First major victory in competitive shooting for George was in 1949, when at the tender age of 14 he shot his way to the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Handicap Championship. Two years later at the American Trapshooting Association competitions at Vandalia, Ohio, he won three North American championships—the Junior, the Junior All-Around and the Junior High Over All.

Last year at the contests sponsored by the A.T.A. he was runner-up in the Junior Preliminary Handicap Championship, and won the Junior Added of Champions of North America title. To this he added the Saskatchewan Championship (Singles). Then before going to the Olympics he stopped at Oslo, Norway, where he placed second in the World Championships.

George Genereux is just a normal boy. In a game that requires chilled-steel nerves, there is no ice-water in his veins. At school, he is a star in hockey and baseball. And a good student. Just a normal, healthy young Canadian, whose fine feat was, unfortunately, overlooked in the attention paid more glamorous competitive sports.

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

Here it is spring again and we're still in full play-off flight with the skate brigades and Messrs. Hudson, Robinson, Cain and Surgeoner are whispering baseball talk in our ear and the Lunney boys, Pickering and Morley Bain out Zephyr way and the Ilare brothers up Keswick way are dreaming championship mushball seasons.

Possibly you may have noticed this is National Smile Week. We had a smile a mile wide until about six chimes Saturday as our plucky Smoke Rings appeared to have brought the Hub it's first O.M.H.A. title. Then those James boys, Jesse and Frank, moved in to louse up the script and wipe that smile away.

The James boys in this case happened to be a couple of whistle tooters who found their way into the rink Saturday. Stick Smith should have made them pay their way in. Well, these chappies gave Goderich a goal that everybody from here to Kalamazoo could see was batted in with a high stick. This, of course, is contrary to all hockey rules, even the small print ones, so what happens? They count it and Goderich ties the series.

Odd part was that referee Grainger appeared as though to face off in the red circle by the net, then after a consultation with his mate, Ken Lushaway, that ruled it a goal. Dash it men, it wasn't cricket.

So now our spunky small fry have to do it all over again with Goderich. We bet that over the past 20 years of viewing hockey we haven't blasted the officials half a dozen times. We've all figured they had enough trouble on their hands trying to please everybody but last Saturday's ruling left us flabbergasted, especially after our kids had worked their heads off and should have won. Never mind, boys; you can still do it. Up and at 'em in this replay series.

Spits had gone and everybody had settled back to see how the Closs-Rowntree Bears would fare, ditto the town leaguers and the juveniles. Then what happens? Our Smoke Rings start bashing everything aside in their rush down the O.M.H.A. trail and suddenly the whole town is talking shiny again. Any of you know something? It's wonderful to see the Hub get that way again.

Complaints were many on the ice conditions Saturday. Personally we thought soft ice was a break for the invaders who do not appear, or have not shown the same quality passing attack as our Smoke Rings. We checked with arena manager Stan Smith on ice conditions. There were close to 800 fans in the rink Saturday and the temperature inside hovered around the 60 mark and the pump couldn't drive hard enough to keep the ice hard.

Earlier they had planned to plane the ice. That would have righted Saturday's trouble, but they found while they had two and a half inches of ice in some spots, at one point, the floor had heaved and there wasn't more than an inch of ice. This, of course, ruled out the possibility of a planing job on the thick parts as it would have left the heaved part sitting high and dry.

This may come as a surprise to you but we have another winning team. Guess you noticed who's ahead in the North York Juvenile playdowns. It's the Office Specialty juveniles. They weren't supposed to go anywhere (said so myself) but there they are right out in front of Richmond Hill. Hope they make it all the way.

Tonight, of course, Sutton Greenshirts go against Markham. Tuesday should be the biggest night of the year at the arena. It's the annual School Kids' Night with hockey, races and what have you. Think you will enjoy the fun if you can make it. Suggestion: one climax item to complete the heavy schedule, a challenge race between the school teachers. Wonder who to bet on?

Floodlights now look a certainty for the Aurora Park this summer. Jimmy Murray, chairman, Gardner Lloyd, Cliff Chapman, Normie Mathews, Mickey Sutton and all the boosters have been going great guns on the project. Notice too our "Down the Center" side-kick, Ab Hulse was spokesman for the floodlights before the town council and came away with a promise of $2,000 aid. That's good work. Where now, men; maybe a three-team floodlight circuit: Newmarket, Aurora and Schomberg.

DIGGERS WIN FIRST

Mickey Sutton's Aurora Ditch Diggers are out in front in the best three out of five series for the Aurora town league championship. Tuesday night the Diggers made their first move towards annexing the title when they scored a 6-4 win over Victory Flyers. Game two goes next Tuesday in the Aurora Gardens.

Harold Stephenson carried the Diggers' scoring torch with a two-goal attack. Other Digger goal-getters were Mickey Sutton, Earl MacDonald, Tracy Barrager and Ken Wright.

Bill Bennett led the Flyers' charge with a pair of goals while Dave Richardson and Arnie DeBoc chipped in with single tallies.

Bantams Tie Series 2-2 In First Replay

Approximately 1,000 fans saw Newmarket Smoke Rings and Goderich Lions battle to a 2-2 tie at the arena Wednesday. It was the third tie the two evenly matched teams have played since they started their series for the O.M.H.A. bantam B title.

Dan Patrick, with help from Ron Egan and Lorne Babcock, scored in the first period to give the Smoke Rings a 2-0 lead. Larry Proctor made at least half a dozen brilliant saves to keep Goderich off the sheet. Larry lost his shut-out in the second as Bill Smith scored and in round three Art Stubbington fired the tying tally.

Next game at Goderich Saturday. Buses leave at 3 p.m. for Goderich. Contact 777 for details. $3.00 return fare.

MOUNT ALBERT BOWLING

Lorne Mainprize's Eskimos have taken a commanding lead in the Mount Albert bowling league. They have collected 67 points, then in order come Dead Enders 54, Hurons 53, Bluebirds 52, Wildcats 51, Falcons 50, Cubs 48, Dodgers 48, Aces 42, Bruins 42, Pioneers 37, Tigers 36, Pirates 33, Excelsiors 31, Beavers 31, Plutocrats 24.

Individual scoring records are as follows: ladies' singles, Dorothy Harper 266, Marg Green 256, Reta Parks 241; ladies' triple, Dorothy Harper 630, Marg Green 617, Ruth Simpson 605; ladies' averages, Marg Green 166, Ruth Simpson 159, Dot Harper 153; men's singles, Jim Slorach 303, Bill Arnold 287, Merv Shaw 278; men's triple, Jas Slorach 802, Murray Stokes 694, Geo. Price 687; men's averages, Murray Stokes 197, Geo. McPherson, 196, Ern Davis 195.

Last Week Qualified R. Hill For Finals

It'll be Newmarket Specialties vs Richmond Hill Rose Kings for the North York Juvenile Hockey League title.

Richmond Hill qualified for the finals when they defeated Aurora Wilsons 1-0 in the Aurora arena last week. That gave the Hill the oft delayed series 2 game to 1.

Ron Leuschner broke into the clear to beat Bill Mundell's efficient net-minder Ron Starkey at 15:10 of the second period to win it for the Rose Kings. Gerald Chapman supplied the pass for Leuschner game winning effort.

Mundell's men had their fair share of the play but couldn't capitalize as Ray Bennett frustrated their best efforts in front of the Hill cage.

Smoke Rings, Lions Tie In Exciting Game Sat.

800 odd rink rats and railbirds left the arena Saturday hollering you won't see any better or more exciting hockey than that. Their refrain came after Newmarket Smoke Rings and Goderich Lions had rolled through 60 minutes of regulation and 30 minutes of tension dripping overtime hockey to a 4-4 draw.

We doubt if you'll ever see two more evenly matched teams. It's a completely new home and home goals to count series now to produce an O.M.H.A. bantam B titleholder. Game one was a 2-2 tie last night and game two will be in Goderich on Saturday to settle the decision.

It was playoff hockey at its best in last Saturday's exciting game. Everything went into the game to make it top flight hockey entertainment. The work of our small fry skate brigade was terrific. They proved themselves a fighting team by twice coming from behind to keep the championship hopes alive. It would be unfair to yank any one player out of the pack for stardom. They all worked themselves into exhaustion but we just have to mention that Danny Patrick, Lorne Babcock, Nick Zogalo, Brian Million, Larry Proctor and Wayne Spence furnished the leadership in the great comeback bids.

Goderich hit first. A penalty started them. Playing a man short, Art Williams, No. 13 if you please, invaders' top scoring threat caught our defense playing up and launched a pair of drives 21 seconds apart that beat our cage custodian, Larry Proctor. Those two doggone goals started to loom as large as a fifty story building as Larry Proctor and his opposite number, Bob Fisher fended off every sign of a score through round two. But those tryin'-til-they're-dying lads of ours (Coach Frank Hollingsworth gave them a pep talk) came out full of determination for the final twenty minutes.

It didn't take the Smoke Rings long to cash in on their determination. Fifty seconds after the period got under way Francis Lewis flicked a pass to Brian Million who in turn steered it to Wayne Spence to put the finishing touches on Newmarket's first counter.

Smoke Rings weren't out of the woods by any means yet. They still had to get that all important tying goal and they gave the assembled crowd heart failure as

Some Public Men Destroy Themselves By Idle Words: A Good Program Of Movies

Public life is an exacting task for those who undertake it. But if those who choose it have good reasons for so doing, and do not deviate from principles, it can bring satisfactions as well as disappointments. Some men in public life are destroyed by forces which they cannot control. Others destroy themselves.

A classic example of the latter is the case of the late Lord Milner who held many important offices in the British government. Questioned in regard to the consequences of the British interference in South Africa, Lord Milner lost his temper and said: "Damn the consequences." The unfortunate expression clung to his public career and the British people finally lost their confidence in him. Years later he confessed to a relation of ours that he had bitterly regretted the words he used.

We were taken utterly by surprise at the vicious attack Mayor Rose launched against himself and our newspaper at the last meeting of council. No local public man ever received greater support in a newspaper than that which we gave to Dr. Rose. That he should repay our loyalty by such an unwarranted personal attack astonished us. We did nothing to deserve it. In time we think he will regret his "damned trash" outbreak.

No Favoritism
We have never courted the mayor's favor, nor fawned on him. We are not made that way. If our bitterest enemy were doing a good job in public life we would say so. Perhaps if we did a bit more "nose-diving" and a bit more flattery, we might be thought better of by some people who have abused us. That sort of thing just isn't in our line.

Perhaps if we had joined the boys at coffee at Dan's cafe after each meeting of council we'd have made a favorable hit. Perhaps not. That's not our way. If we are to write disinterestedly on public affairs in Aurora we must remain free to do so. We are not unscrupulous, but we hope we are tactful. One councillor told us some time back that he didn't "relish his coffee with Mr. Picking of the Banner telling them what they should and should not have done at the council meeting."

From what we have heard there say, Mr. Picking has a pugnacious propensity for "nose-diving" on semi-public as well as public affairs. From what we hear, he has insatiable inclinations and the irrepressible capacity to achieve a seat at the head table of whatever organization he attends, even when he pays for his own dinner.

He has the same means of answering us, if he chooses, as we have of saying that in such matters we are not nearly so pugnacious as Mr. Picking appears to be. Our nerves lie nearer to the epidermis. Incidentally, we would like to know whether or not he played any part in what we suggested might be a "frame-up" attack and vote at the last meeting of the town council. He is so ubiquitous that the thought has not escaped even our simple mind. We have heard it said that "life is a crooked labyrinth and daily we are lost in its obligity."

Saving Money?
Is the town saving money by having printing done by the Banner Publishing company? We know one tradesman in town who paid $21 for work done by that company. Our charge for the same work was $10.75. Another tradesman gave us a $220 order for work and said he was agreeably surprised at our prices. Perhaps the town could save money by getting some competitive prices for their printing work.

Newspapers
Picking up a newspaper which we thought was the Aurora Banner, we found it was the "Tombstone Epitaph." Tombstone is a city in Cochise county, Arizona, U.S.A. The "Epitaph" is its local weekly and has been in publication for 73 years. It claims to be one "of the most widely circulated newspapers in America." It is a four-page, well-printed and well-produced newspaper and bears no resemblance to its mournful title.

We note that a Canadian, by name Peter Trapitt, has given pleasure by a letter he has written in praise of Tombstone, which is described by those who know it as a very beautiful city. We had never heard of Tombstone until we saw the newspaper. Whoever gave it its name 73 years ago had, we think, a keen sense of sardonic humor.

From it we turned to a copy of "The Varsity" and on its forum page, where "some below, others cowed," we read of what a contributor calls "the supine, phlegmatic, insensible, colorless and dispassionate men at universities today." This underground appears to have what it takes to make a good town council reporter.

Finally we did get through to the Aurora Banner, where we found that Mayor Rose had "stolen the show" among the headlines on its front page. We wonder if Dr. Rose feels proud of his "damned trash," plastered in large type at the top of the page. Ourselves, we feel sorry for him. The Banner made the utmost use of him for circulation purposes.

A Good Selection
Among those nominated for the Aurora Floodlight board, we were very pleased to see the name of John Willis. Keenly interested in sport, his was a good selection. His father served on the public school board for 23 years.

Outside Our Zone
We were pleased to receive an invitation from Mayor Joseph Vale, on behalf of the town of Newmarket, to attend the official opening of the York county magistrate's court on March 17. Although we were unable to accept the mayor's invitation we nonetheless appreciated it very much.

We have received invitations during the past two years of our connection with the Era and Express to events in Newmarket, none of which we have been able to accept. The fact is, Newmarket affairs are none of our business and we have scrupulously refrained from commenting on them. The same scrupulous non-interference with Aurora affairs has been observed by the management of the Era and Express. As editor of Aurora News Page we have had unfettered freedom to control its contents as we have seen fit.

We have often felt we would like to look in on the Newmarket town council while it was in session, to compare it with the Aurora town council. We have repressed these inclinations of curiosity because of the desire their fulfillment would have brought to comment on what we saw and heard. Council Side-lights on Newmarket town council, written by ourselves, could have a certain news-value. But we have not yielded to such appetizing temptation.

So, up to this time of writing, the mayor and all members of the Newmarket town council are personally unknown to us. All we know of their activities is what we read in reports that appear in this newspaper.

More Good Movies
Frank Haylett, manager of the Royal theatre, looked in to show us the schedule of movies for the month of April. We are pleased to report that some fine showings are programed, beginning with "The Promoter." This movie, taken from the late Arnold Bennett's famous novel, "The Card," is sure to draw large houses on April 1-2. At the top of a wonderful cast is Alec Guinness, one of Britain's leading actors. He will be supported by Glynis Johns, Valerie Hobson and Petula Clark.

In the middle of the month "The Prisoner of Zenda" will be shown. Appearing in it will be such outstanding artists as James Mason, Stewart Granger, Deborah Kerr and Lewis Stone. This is a movie packed with romance, adventure and glorious technicolor. At the end of the month the ever-popular "Ivanhoe" will be presented.

The better the pictures, the better the crowds. Mr. Haylett reports good houses recently. Royal theatre audiences like good movies. We should not be surprised to hear the April showings proved a record series of attractions for 1933.

INGRATITUDE

"I hope I shall never cease to merit your continued confidence. Dr. C. Rose." Those words were written on a card which we received three months ago, signed by the Mayor of Aurora, Dr. Crawford Rose. We greatly appreciated the message. We put the card in a safe place, so that in the years that may remain to us we would think kindly of its sender. Now we shall keep it as one more proof of the frailties of human nature and the sentiments it generates.

We are all assailed by frailties. But ingratitude need not be one of them. The sincere heart will reject ingratitude as the healthy mind will scorn duplicity. From the time of his nomination in December 1951 until March 1953, with one exception, we have stood loyally by Dr. Rose in his office of Mayor of Aurora. The exception was when he refused to allow us to defend ourself against the unwarranted abuse of Messrs. Cousins and Underhill at a joint meeting of the council and arena board.

When the Aurora Banner was tearing at his mayoral intestines in the summer of 1952, during the arena debates, and on other occasions which we could name, we defended and supported Dr. Rose in these columns. We believed he was a good mayor and said so again and again. We never faltered in our loyalty to him, and on more than one occasion we received thanks by telephone from his home. While we appreciated this, our support was given him because of our belief in his municipal qualifications.

Regretfully we have to say that the "continued confidence" Dr. Rose hoped would "never cease" on our part has been shattered. As a result of the wholly unwarranted attack he made on us at the meeting of council on March 16, the mayor himself destroyed our future confidence. "Blow, blow, thou winter wind, thou art not so unkind as man's ingratitude." The rest we leave with Dr. Rose's conscience.

OUTLAWED!

When Reeve Cook and Deputy-reeve Murray made their motion to cancel further printing work with the Era and Express, they may have thought that that was a sure way to cut our life-line! So that our readers may realize the staggering financial loss their successful motion inflicted on us, we are providing figures from the accounts. From January 7, 1952, to March 3, 1953, this newspaper received from the town treasury the sum of $147.98. For the same period the Aurora Banner was paid $1,210.07.

It should be recalled that during the years 1950-51, while Reeve Cook was a member of the finance committee, the Era and Express received nothing from the town treasury. So that in a period of three years and three months the Era and Express has derived $147.98 from the treasury of the town of Aurora. Our readers will now realize how little the Murray-Cook outlawing motion means to us. By their action they cheapened themselves, not us. Little minds will always revel in little things.

One thing neither Cook nor Murray can do: They cannot outlaw our newspaper from the homes of Aurora. They might like to do so. But the more they try to do it the more our circulation grows. The people of Aurora have learned that under its present editorship the Aurora Banner keeps many things from them they ought to know. Aurora News Page is free and independent. We write without fear or favor. That may be the reason why the reeve and his deputy do not like us.

THE WAY TO DO IT

Cowards, afraid to strike in the open, find other ways to do it. One way is to find a stooge, or, if the occasion demands it, a number of stooges. The poor dupes can be led on by flattery and cajolery. The master-mind gets busy, thinks up a plan, and proceeds to coddle his victims. He primes them for the coming event and when the time is opportune he gives the signal and they compliantly obey.

It is not their interests he is concerned with, but his own. A coward at heart, a human creeper with no heights left to climb, he burrows below the surface in mole-like fashion. He is affable and infinitely patronizing. Out of his burnt-out ambitions he has salvaged some knowledge of human psychology. He is always a little ahead of his stooges and plays them for what they are worth.

Often he is planning to remove some obstacle that he finds in his way. Having found the obstacle tougher than his first calculations, he must find means outside himself for its removal. Desiring, as the poet wrote, "to wound, but fearing to strike," he falls back on underground tactics. By plausible means he worms his way into the confidence of those he proposes to use.

Some he will flatter, others he will cajole. He trades upon their own self-interest. "If so and so can be removed," he may tell them, "all our positions will be more secure." Since the crime of murder is paid by hanging, he does not risk such a conclusive device. His methods are less obvious. Always, and by whatever means he uses, his only interest is his own.

It is remarkable how easily the coward motivated by self-interest can find stooges, willing to do his dirty work. It may be that they are too ignorant to understand his wiles. Or it may be that there is a common kinship among cowards and stooges. The last assumption sounds reasonable.

COUNCIL SIDELIGHTS

A Reply To The Mayor Who Seems To Like The Hurrahs But 'Hollers' At Criticism

Fresh from a refresher course, held under the auspices of the Michigan State medical society, the mayor of Aurora, Dr. Crawford Rose, did not lapse into a coma at the last meeting of council. On the contrary, he gave way to an emotional spasm, lost his temper and became a prey to bad language.

For a full 20 minutes he "lambasted" Aurora News Page. Towards the end of his feverish harangue he became unpleasantly personal and lectured us. He told us what we should and should not do with our time. The longer he talked the worse the emotional spasm drove him on. Although he did not know it, his situation was sometimes pathetic. It was an instance of "how are the mighty fallen."

Dr. Rose, as mayor of Aurora, gave us his treatment. It was a full dose that he gave us to drink. We swallowed all his verbal medicine without uttering a single "squawk." We have lived longer than Dr. Rose. It is now his turn to take our medicine and by the time we are through we hope he will be feeling better.

Order and Vaudeville
Until the moment when the mayor "blew his top" it had been an orderly, well-conducted meeting. There was the important statement by Councillor D. J. Murray that Dr. Boulding had warned him, as a member of the building permits committee, that the proposed building of a two-door garage and warehouse at the rear of the Aurora Building Co. could not be approved, since it would trespass on the green-belt defined under the land use by-law and proposed zoning by-law.

This is fast work! The zoning by-law isn't passed yet. It still has to be vivisected by council. Yet apparently the planning board was prepared to issue its orders. Mr. Murray decided to wait the return of the mayor from Detroit before he and the other member of the permits committee acted. When the matter came before council the Aurora Building company was granted its permit.

There was a little vaudeville too. Quite surprisingly Councillor Jones, on moving a motion for a second reading of a by-law, used the word "resolve" instead of moving that council "dissolve" itself into a committee of the whole. Immediately Reeve Cook called out that he would like to see a dictionary.

Later in the evening, when the mayor had "blown his top," the reeve said he would go home and look up a dictionary, purposely to see the difference between "resolve" and "dissolve". Apparently he wasn't going to submit to correction from Aurora News Page. It occurred to us that if the warden of York county doesn't know the difference between two such simple English words as resolve and dissolve, he should take up a course in the elementary native language.

As Mark Twain said: "Brother, it was funny." When we were young we've paid our modest shilling (25 cents) for a comedy show and not been half so amused.

Looked Like Frame-Up
Business being apparently ended, we were putting our notes away when we heard the mayor say he had something unpleasant to bring up. For most of the evening the mayor had been smoking his pipe and looking very paternal. Now his pipe was put away; his fingers were clasped in front of him and his face wore a solemn hue. (Soon the pencils of Mr. Picking and his assistant were in action. This was going to be news for the Banner. Not since the days of Cousins, Boulding and Underhill had they had such a carnival.)

The mayor's verbal show was on. But it wasn't one that sounded good for the impressionable ears of kindergarten students or even Sunday school teachers. He was hurling invectives around, "damnable", "damnation", and "damned trash". All these words were fired at Aurora News Page and its editor. That was the way the mayor of the town and its first citizen was taking criticism over a closed meeting of council, not a very good example from the man who recently was lecturing on civic matters, hardly a model of cultivated and gentlemanly deportment! Having damned our paper and thrown it down on the council table, the mayor of the town lapsed into silence, in a manner of self-righteous indignation.

Then came Murray (deputy) and Cook (reeve). The deputy said he congratulated their mayor; the reeve said he was proud of their mayor. Both the reeve and the deputy appeared to tremble from the effects of a long-delayed satisfaction. The reeve had Banner circulation figures to prove his sales, sworn by affidavit, he said. The thought crossed our mind that the whole affair looked like a frame-up. It didn't sound spontaneous. They were firing the shots. But who filled the cartridge-cases? Did a Mr. Picking fill them?

Councillor D. J. Murray put up a good case for the hundreds of Era and Express readers in Aurora. He wanted equality for both papers. But Mr. Murray's appeal to reason was no match for what looked like the carefully-prepared "kill". The boys had decided to deal a death-blow at Aurora News Page; and the Banner reporting pencils were kept busy.

"Good Of The Town"
After the mayor had charged into us with all the burning fury of an enraged bull who's got his victim at his feet, Reeve Cook began his old-time prating of pious platitudes about the "good of the town". This was the same Reeve Cook who wouldn't accept the assessor's ruling on his properties and got an approximate reduction of $18,000.

Reeve Cook's patriotic speech on "the good of the town of Aurora" seems to be held in reserve for occasions such as these. It is now worn so thin that it has a plastic look. He could wear it like an apron. We once heard a man, well known to Reeve Cook, say that as long as "Mr. Cook is on council there won't be much progress made."

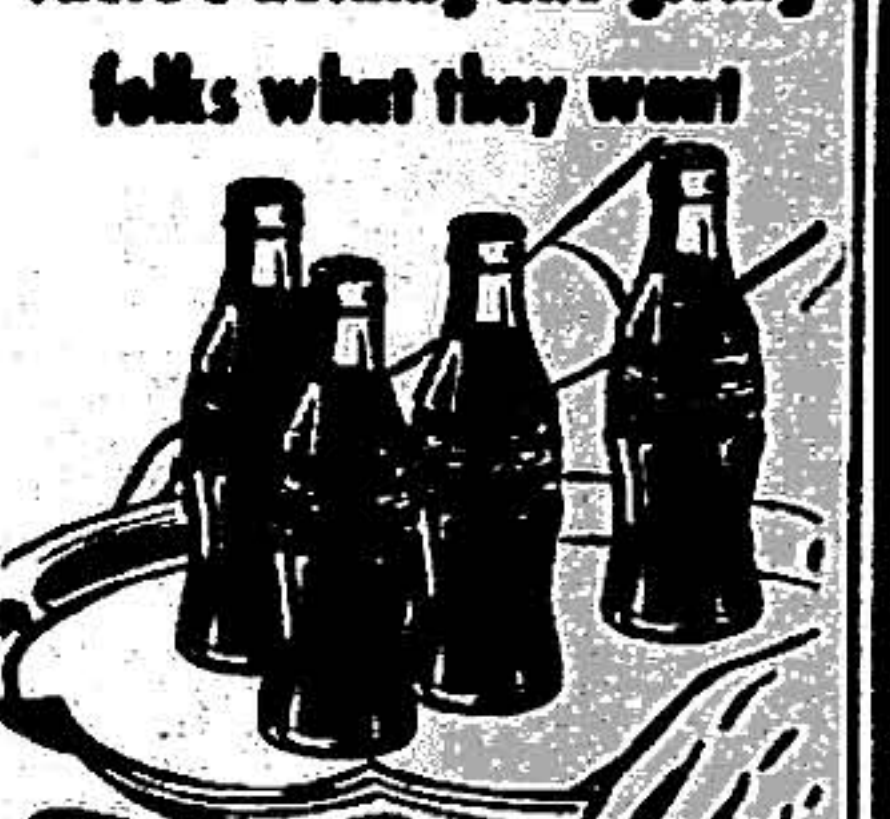

The reeve and the deputy did the talking. The reeve ticked on like a grandfather's clock, only going off the beam when, like it, a weight goes astring. The deputy, never very certain at any time just what it is he wants to say, is up and down, up and down, adding a piece here and taking it off there. But he knew what he wanted this time. So he moved that no further town printing work be given to the Era and Express. The reeve was up on his toes at once, to second that one.

No Difference To Us
During the two years while Mr. Alex Bell was mayor and Mr. Cook was a member of the finance committee, the Era and Express received no work to do for the town. That made no difference at all to the services this newspaper rendered to the citizens of Aurora. The motion passed on Monday night, March 16, will make no difference to us. Our services will be continued as hitherto.

While Messrs. Cook and Murray were talking ("for the good of the town"), their on-the-wagon supporters, Councillor King and Davis, were warmly approving their municipal superiors. Dale did it with a patronizing smile, like a mentor encouraging a backward pupil; Clarence puffed away at his pipe; he spoke not a word that we could hear; he nodded his head in support of the higher-ups and voted to down the Era. Clarence again proved himself a good liberal-minded democrat.

We had been "knifed," voted (Page 12, Col. 1)

COUNCIL SWELINGS

"out," and the carnival was over. Banner pencils were still after a pleasing bag of "copy." Swimming Up
What was our crime? Just this. We protested against a special meeting of council being closed to the public and as while Mr. Picking of the Aurora Banner was in on it, whether he is a member of the board of trade or not. Mayor Rose resented our criticism; he was not big enough to take it. To bolster a case against us, Dr. Rose found it necessary to tell lies. He said we had "blasted everything and everybody in Aurora." That is a falsehood. He said: "All he does is to blast everything and everybody and make fun and mockery out of our town with his damned trash." That is a falsehood.

In his temper the mayor was untruthful and libellous. He has never resented our praise and help in time of need. It seems he can take the glory but not the criticism. He will accept the hurrahs but "bollers" loudly and long if his judgment is questioned. His "lambskin" outbursts were deplorable, where passion took the place of reason. He fell from the pinnacle of mayoral dignity into a situation resembling a brawl of roughnecks. His pitiful exhibition inflicted on the town of Aurora the worst publicity in our experience. Aurora does not deserve such a let-down from its mayor.

As a mayor of the town Dr. Rose should provide an example of grace, dignity and good manners. His public deportment should be above reproach. In view of his lamentable lapse from the truth and from the code of good behavior, he should apologize to the citizens of Aurora.

Mr. Albert Girl Elected President York Jr. Farmers

At the annual meeting of the York County Junior Farmers' association held at the department of agriculture board rooms, Newmarket, Miss Jeanette Harrison, Mount Albert, was elected president for 1953.

Jeanette, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Harrison, has been an active leader in the Sharon Junior Farmers' club and is past president of the girls' section of that club, as well as being vice-president of the county association last year. Eldred King, Markham, was elected vice-president and Dorothy Miles, Milliken, secretary-treasurer.

Following the morning business session, an interesting progress report was issued by the past presidents of the various clubs in the county. The activities of the clubs were many and varied and included the sponsoring of a glee club, farm entrance improvement project, the sponsorship of calf and farm machinery clubs, the direction of the junior section of Markham fair and a fashion show.

David Pelletier, Milton, R. R. 6, president of the Ontario Junior Farmers' association, was introduced by Carl Boynton, as guest speaker. Mr. Pelletier dealt with the qualities of leadership and their development in Junior Farmers. David who is himself an excellent example of the leadership qualities possessed by Junior Farmers, believes that an important phase of development is that which occurs at home through the amount of responsibility which the person is willing or is allowed to take in the home operation.

Mr. T. R. Hillard, associate director of the agricultural representatives branch and general secretary of the Ontario Junior Farmers' association, took charge of the next section of the program. This was a discussion period on proper business procedure and the duties of presidents, secretaries and treasurers and non-executive members.

The meeting closed with a period on resolutions and recommendations and a discussion on District and Provincial Junior Farmer camps and the election of Carl Boynton as county director to the Ontario association.

Junior Farmer clubs which are located at Schomberg, Sharon, Vellere and Unionville are always ready to welcome new members and any farm boy or girl will find it well worth while to attend the monthly meetings of any of the associations. For further information, contact the club president or any member in your community, or drop a line to Ed. Pearson or W. M. Cockburn at the department of agriculture, Newmarket.

How many ways do they serve you?

Guess again!

All of these people serve you in useful ways through their jobs. But, like people in all walks of life, they may also be helping you in certain important unseen ways.

Take your postman, for instance. He may have helped to build your home through his ownership of life insurance. It's possible — because the money of thousands of life insurance policyholders is invested for them in building homes throughout the nation.

In the same way your milkman, lawyer or nurse may have helped build new highways, waterworks, schools, power plants or other essential public works in your community.

And — who knows — perhaps your job too was created by those life insurance policyholders' dollars, invested to develop new businesses and industries.

So anyone who owns life insurance — including probably you — does more than provide financial security for his family. He also serves his fellow-citizens in all these useful ways!

CANADIAN SONG BIRD

Shakespeare asks in one of his plays "What's in a name?" and the answer is that to be without a good name is to be poor indeed and the Good Book tells us that a good name is to be chosen rather than riches.

The name which Lois Marshall, by dint of overcoming handicaps and cultivating successfully a fine voice, produced gratifying results on March 17 when she sang in Newmarket. All members of the concert association rejoiced that they had tickets while those people who had neglected to secure season tickets lamented their lack of foresight.

It was an audience tuned to the highest pitch of expectancy and there was no let-down during the program. Lois Marshall seems to have an almost flawless voice. Its equality of tone throughout, its range, its brilliancy of tone and color, its flexibility and power, all combined with an astounding breath control, to make up a voice that is quite wonderful.

In her first number, Mozart's "Exultate Jubilate", I thought the perfection of her voice was touched with coldness until she came to the Alleluia when all the glorious power on that small body seemed to reach out to the listeners in a very cascade of tonal beauty.

Weldon Kilburn provided the fine background which should be the aim of all accompanists, never to obtrude, always to support and give the elusive something every singer needs to bring out the perfection of her art.

Although I enjoyed Lois Marshall in all her numbers, Hilda, Archie and I also enjoyed her three Schubert selections more than her Puccini, Rossini numbers. This was not something of the voice; it was something of the spirit, something more which Lois Marshall got in Schubert's songs than in the Italian.

Her last group, folk songs, was a delight. She seemed less tense and gave these songs with a spontaneity and humor and friendliness that reached across the barrier of the footlights and took the audience to her heart. Lois Marshall is only at the beginning of a career that promises to go far. Her Canadian friends will watch with keen interest her progress, proud that she is a product of purely Canadian teaching and delighted that Canada has such a worthy representative in the lovely land of music.

Just as we enjoyed Lois Marshall better in Schubert than in Rossini, Puccini, some enjoyed Weldon Kilburn more in his Chopin numbers than in Brahms. I think the only person I ever enjoyed hearing play Brahms was Kenneth Mills. But we enjoyed Mr. Kilburn's Chopin numbers, especially his Ballad in G. Minor. It showed a brilliancy of tone and technique that was very fine. Altogether it was an unforgettable evening.

On Friday, March 18, the dinner for the executive and canvassers of the Newmarket Concert Association was held in the King George hotel. There were 30 present to enjoy the social aspect, good food and helpful talks from our new president, Mrs. Beer, and from Mr. Young and Mr. Bird. Mrs. Beer infected her listeners with some of her own enthusiasm regarding the coming year's series and the necessity for her hearers to bestir themselves to make this, our third year, also most successful.

Mr. Bird and Mr. Young told us something of the artists available for the future and "made us feel that each and everyone is worth hearing. The new series promises much.

MEET TO DISCUSS EXPANSION OF RIDGES SCHOOL

Possibility of tentative approval by Whitchurch township council for the proposed addition of five rooms to Oak Ridges school was indicated this week. Reeve Ivan McLaughlin expressed personal approval of the project at a meeting of the trustee board on Union S. S. 1, King and Whitchurch, with representatives of King and Whitchurch councils, on Monday night at Oak Ridges school.

The verbal approval of Reeve Elton Armstrong of King council was reiterated by Deputy Reeve Wm. Hodgson and Councilor Douglas Wellesley. The department of education has given tentative approval to the plan. The issue rests with the Oak Ridges school board, upon approval of the township councils and the Municipal Board, before plans and estimates can be presented to ratepayers. The school board does not condone a small school area formation.

Whatever the future may hold in population expansion, the school board has the immediate problem of providing facilities to 65 new pupils by September. Oak Ridges is likely to reach the status of a village and does not desire dividing the Union section, trustee Richard Bull states. King township would have the responsibility of selling debentures. The meeting was chaired by Reeve Elton Armstrong.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Farm Radio Forum is being held April 9 in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto. Registration will be at 9:30 a.m. As a special feature the CBC Farm Broadcast with the Craig Family, will initiate from the luncheon meeting in the banquet hall. The Craig Family is one of the best known farm families in Ontario and Quebec and is heard Monday to Friday each noon-hour on the Trans-Canada network of the CBC.

In a happy mood, some of the cast is pictured above; from left to right they are: Martha Craig, who in real life is Grace Webster; Ben McFarland, the argumentative neighbor, played by Alex McKee; George Murray as the son Bill Craig; the part of Janice, Bill's sister, is taken by Alice Hill; and Thomas Craig, the head of the family, acted by Frank Peddie, who combines acting with a successful law practice.

Hold Successful Fashion Show In Mount Albert Hall

A Spring fashion show was presented in Mount Albert last week by the Mount Albert branch of the Women's Institute and a number of merchants from Newmarket. The show was described as a complete success.

Local models displayed clothes from Dawson's Ladies Wear, the Jack and Jill shop, Morrison's Men's Wear and jewelry from Yates Jewelry store. Displays were presented by H. L. Stephens and Son and Senecal's Dry Goods. There was a large audience in the Mount Albert community hall to see the show.

Mr. B. A. Budd added to the show with his recorded music and public address system. The spring and summer gowns modeled were most attractive. There was a splendid collection of costumes arranged by the different merchants.

Bonny Purdie excelled in her part as commentator and her description of each model made the show much more interesting.

The adult models were Mrs. W. Shillinglaw, Mrs. W. Case, Mrs. Bruce Sedore, Mrs. D. Stiver, Mrs. C. Rolling, Ann Harrison and Ruth Lunau. The spring clothes worn by the little miss were prettily displayed by the Wright twins, Margaret and Marion, Jeannie Green, Judy Thompson, Susan Morton, Kathleen Morehead and Arlene Rate.

The young men of the family modelling clothes from the Jack and Jill shop were Jackie Morton, Joie Case, Bobby Green and Ricky Smith.

During intermission Mr. H. L. Stephens presented a colored film, "Background for Home Decoration", and a talk was given on wallpaper and the art of matching draperies and having a proper color scheme.

Thompson's Beauty Salon added to the show by doing some of the hair styling.

Lucky ticket winners were Mrs. H. Evans, with prize donated by the Best Drug store; Mrs. W. Graham, prize donated by Yates Jewelry store; Mrs. Vi Shields, prize donated by Dawson's Ladies Wear; Mrs. R. Harrison, prize donated by Budd Studio and Mrs. D. Shillinglaw, prize donated by Morrison's Men's Wear.

Three ladies, each receiving sufficient paper for one room, donated by H. L. Stephens and Son were Eleanor Rate, Mrs. Stan Pegg and Mrs. D. Wright. Mrs. H. Harman thanked the Newmarket merchants for all their effort for such a successful evening and a wonderful show.

A single application of F-T-E is capable of keeping vital trace elements near the roots of plants for several years.

F-T-E will not leach out... nor react with the soil to become unavailable to plants... neither rain nor surface water will remove F-T-E once properly applied.

All crops need trace elements

All crops need trace elements to reach full growth. Without the proper source of trace elements full value cannot be realized from available acreage.

F-T-E has produced beneficial effects on vegetables, field crops, fruit, shrubbery and flowers. Used with standard fertilizers, F-T-E has helped prevent crop abnormalities that are due to certain soil deficiencies.

The slowly-soluble quality of F-T-E makes trace elements available to plants and keeps them available over a long period of time. Avoid trace element deficiencies—have bigger yields—healthier crops with F-T-E.

Easy application

F-T-E can be broadcast over area to be treated or it may be mixed with standard fertilizers. In either method, F-T-E must be worked into the soil. Apply 1 lb. of F-T-E per 400 sq. ft. of surface area or 50 to 100 lbs. per acre.

King City And District To Open New Post Office And Pharmacy At King City

Every village takes pride in its progress. On Wednesday, April 1, a new post office and a pharmacy will open in the new post office block, facing King Street, built by the postmistress, Mrs. Wells F. MacDonald, at the rear of her property. The modern spacious building made of brick and stuccoed cement blocks has two apartments on the second floor.

In moving to new quarters, the postal department is leaving the present location which it has occupied since 1870. Mrs. MacDonald is head of the department, an office held by the family for 52 years, since 1901 when John MacDonald became the head. Upon his death, his wife, Elizabeth Wells MacDonald became postmistress in 1914. In 1935, her son Wells took the post. His death in 1949 gave the vacancy to his wife, Ethel, who was the assistant.

Originally the old MacDonald block was built by John Lloyd for his son Benjamin who was the first postmaster. At that time the store department was one large room with the postal quarters slightly toward the centre of the room. It is believed Jesse Nunn then operated the service, although James Stokes was the head postmaster. The department was later shifted to its present location and partly built in as a separate office. The entrance was through the central door of the store.

New Pharmacy

Perry's Pharmacy, occupying the west side of the building, is the first established in the village. The stock is owned by John C. Perry, pharmacist, Maple, and the manager of the business will be Ken Sutton Phm.B., Toronto.

Since the late Dr. G. D. Lockhart concluded medical practice in 1941, there has been no person within the village authorized to make prescriptions other than Dr. W. G. Grant, whose practice lasted but a short time.

It was John Perry who, although he only opened up his pharmacy at Maple in June 1951, was quick to realize the future for a drug store in King City. After apprenticing in Woodbridge for two years, he graduated as a chemist in 1950 at the University of Toronto.

lodge has long been protested by residents, to the point where village trustees asked the township to install a trap, which was operated by Constables Moody and Davis of the township force, on different occasions. The greatest volume of traffic takes place mornings and late afternoons.

Resolution Presented to M.L.A.

During the weekend, a brief was presented to Major MacKenzie, M.P.P., asking the provincial legislature to ban the manufacture and sale of synthetic oil products to take the place of dairy products, excluding margarine and peanut butter. The resolution was drawn up and endorsed by Whitechurch township Federation of Agriculture Unit, endorsed by York County president, Frank Marritt, and secretary W. J. Buchanan, and three members of King township unit. Mr. MacKenzie told the representatives he was in sympathy with dairy farmers and would present the brief to the chairman of the resolutions committee in the house.

Legion Auxiliary Feted

Members of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary were treated to a social evening by the Legion branch in the Legion clubhouse last week, as an expression of appreciation for the assistance given to the branch by the ladies since organization. About 40 danced to records. D. M. Findlay, social chairman, was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Wilfred Hare, a patient in Weston Sanatorium hospital, was given an informal birthday party on March 21 by her sisters, Anne Andrews, and Leonore Robb.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wellington, Strange, who came to the vicinity recently, were intimate friends of the late Mrs. Alice Hawkes Robinson and her son, T. G. Hawkes Robinson and his wife, who were burned to death in their car in a Yonge St. traffic accident last week.

Waterworks Account

King City waterworks system requires that payments of water rates be made in advance to conform to the general practice of public utility billing. Customers have received notice and are billed for two quarterly periods, Jan. 1 to March 31, and April 1 to June 30, 1953. Subscribers will receive the normal 10 percent discount on the first quarter and 20 percent off the second quarter if accounts are paid within 15 days from April 1. Subsequent quarters will involve 10 percent discount within 15 days of billing. Accounts unpaid by June 30 will be considered three months in arrears. This decision was made by the village trustee board on Feb. 23. The principle protects waterworks accounts to the village.

Village street lights on Keele south were dimmed to a dull glow for a short time last week, culminating in a breakdown last Friday night. At 4:30 a.m. Saturday morning trustee Bob McLeod, superintendent of lights, went over the area, reporting to the Hydro complaint office at

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis spent Saturday evening with Mr. G. W. Curtis and Mrs. Clarkson, Newmarket.

SLIGHT INCREASE IN KING TOWNSHIP TAX RATE FOR '53

A slight increase in the 1953 King township tax rate was struck by the municipal council March 13, when the overall rate was set at 26.3 mills, exclusive of those in each of the several school sections. The tax rate in 1952 was 25 mills. The 1953 assessment is $5,536,200.

For general township purposes, the tax rate is 12.8 mills as compared with 12.4 mills last year. Education costs have risen requiring a tax rate of 6.5 mills to take care of King township's share in the Aurora high school district. This is an increase of 1.7 mills over the 1952 rate. The general school rate in the township remains at 3.1 mills and relief taxation is the same as in 1952, four-tenths of a mill.

Comparing the tax rates in township police villages, King City and Schomberg assumed the same as in 1952, 12 and 14 mills respectively. Nobleton plans to build sidewalks and its tax rate has been increased by four-tenths of a mill to stand at 12.8 mills.

Trustees' rates in the township school sections vary, noticeably where new additions and improvements have been made in public schools and where debenture costs are decreasing in volume.

In the newly formed school area No. 1, at Kettleby, as an amalgamation of sections 6, 9, 12 and 11, a tax rate of 5.1 mills has been set, which is practically the lowest of any of the other school sections. In S.S. 19, Nobleton, where a new classroom was added, the tax rate is 11.9 mills, general purpose, plus 5.1 mills special rate.

In S.S. 13, Pottageville, the establishment of a new portable classroom increased the taxpayers' costs to 18.7 mills which is made up of 13 mills, general purpose and a special building rate of 5.7 mills.

In Union No. 1 (King and Whitechurch) at Oak Ridges, Union S.S. 3 at Armitage, and S.S. 2 at King, decreases are noted. Union No. 1 has reduced the tax rate from 22.4 to 19.5 mills. Armitage has 9.1 mills as against 9.3 in 1952, while King City, in S.S. 2, has lowered the rate from 14 to 12 mills. S.S. 4 at Strange has a decrease from 6 mills to a tax rate of 5.5 mills.

Lightweight Fabrics Featured In Range Of Brighter Shades

Spring is always a time of change—a season when men's horizons broaden as the tempo of their business and social lives increases. The year 1953, in itself an era of sweeping changes, will be no exception.

To meet the demands of this active period, with its many business opportunities, social variety in fabrics, colors and events and outdoor sports, most men assay their wardrobe needs and plan for changes to keep them abreast of the times. The Easter season, with its stress on proper attire and new styles, gives impetus to the "peacock urge"—every man's desire to show off the brightest elements of his wardrobe, and to impress upon the minds of others his ability to choose the right clothes for the right time.

Because success-conscious men know that hundreds of times each day in every type of activity, they are judged silently by their appearances, these men take advantage of new Spring styles to add to their wardrobe important items and to replenish supplies of apparel which show signs of wear.

When he enters his clothing store, this Spring, the average man will find that styles for 1953 place heavy emphasis on lighter, brighter colors and on fabrics greatly reduced in weight. This trend, as it affects fabrics, is in line with the reduction in bulk brought about by the new "natural look".

Styles' Biggest News

This "lighter, brighter, look" is the biggest news in styles for Spring.

In every aspect of apparel—from the lightweight shirt he buys for golf to the suit and topcoat he purchases to create that important "successful-looking" appearance in business—the shopper will find this "brighter, lighter look".

When he shops for his new Spring suit, the style-conscious man will find that the greatest stylings will be found in suits of all-wool tropical worsted and in the new lightweight woollens.

Despite the countless new fibers and blends, most advances in suit styling are introduced first in wool and later adapted by the makers of blends and other fibers. Likewise, new textures in fabrics and new fabric styles are established first in wool and later developed for use in other fibers. A variety of suit models is available for Spring, and—depending upon the section of the country—the shopper can take his choice not only of single- and double-breasted suits, but also of three-button, two-button and single-button models of single-breasted suits.

Styles of All Types

With the return of outdoor sports and the advent of warmer weather, a wide selection of sport styles of all types will be offered for active men. For the golfer, shirts of all-wool and cotton jersey, and of a variety of cotton mesh fabrics will be available.

Success-conscious men know that the coming of Spring increases the importance of being well-dressed for business and social life. Seen here are a three-button, single-breasted navy blue chalk-stripe suit (left) in lightweight all-wool flannel, and a durable all-wool sharkskin (right) in tan with a reddish brown cast. A clear yellow foulard tie, a white shirt with rounded collar points and a brown snap-brim hat are worn with the dark suit, together with a lightweight tweed topcoat in a grey houndstooth check with a shallow overplaid. A donegal tweed topcoat, brown snap-brim hat and red school stripe tie coordinate with the lighter suit, worn by the man on the right.

Every tennis player will select his tennis shorts from an array of cotton twill and tropical worsted models, both in full length trousers and in shorts.

A variety of sports jacket styles, in both two- and three-button models, will be available for wear at spectator sports and at informal social events.

While colder weather remains in many sections of the country, a variety of casual jackets will win men's attention.

QUEEN'S CONSORT SETS CORONATION STYLES FOR MEN

London's Saville Row, arbiter of men's fashions in the British Isles, seems bound to have some influence on Spring styles here.

The Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Queen Elizabeth, has emerged in the pre-coronation period as the leader of fashion. This is a role once held by the Duke of Windsor, his Queen's uncle.

Edinburgh's leadership is in the tradition of British male royalty. Charles II, Edward VII, George V and his son, George VI, each in his time inspired some innovation in attire.

The Merry Monarch is credited with the invention of the waistcoat; Edward VII with the vogue of the Homburg hat and the introduction of creased trousers, George V, with the unpopular experiment of the side-creased trousers, and George VI with a correct taste in fine clothes.

THE FASHION SHOW

Easy To Look At, Easy To Wear In Spring, 1953

By Caroline Ion

Not for many a season have the fashion designers been so kind to the average figure. The styles are easy to look at and certainly, easy to wear.

Such recent favorites as the "bell" shape with its heavily starched crinolines and the voluminous full skirts required a hand-span waistline. This spring the lines are slender. The trend is for styling that carries the eye in a vertical line, wonderfully slimming for the many women who need just such assistance.

Full skirts are to be found in this year's collections. But, in '53, the fullness is more controlled and frequently it is gathered in front.

A Stole, To Have And Drape

The importance of the stole is known and appreciated by all women. They can be made of almost every fabric and the fashion experts claim that to be in the fashion picture this year, a woman must have at least one stole.

Aware of this fact, Dawson's Specialty Shoppe showed a blue mix suit complete with stole at the fashion show in Newmarket this year. The jacket was beautifully tailored and the pencil skirt had kick pleats, front and back for easy walking. The matching stole was anchored at one shoulder by a brightly jewelled pin from Yates' Jewellers.

Yates provided all the jewelry for the spring fashion show presented in the Newmarket Town Hall on March 11 by local merchants. Sponsoring the fashion showing was the Business and Professional Women's club, Newmarket.

In keeping with the Coronation theme, the jewelry worn was colorful and more elaborate than it has been for many a season. Ear rings were often very large but like all the contemporary jewelry, they were not heavy. This is a jewelry year with it being almost impossible to have too much.

But returning to the season's most important accessory, the Faye Struthers at Newmarket's stole, another was modelled by fashion show, from Eves Ladies' Wear.

This time the stole was two-faced, blue crepe lined with red bengaline. The dress, a Klever

HORSE BLANKET MODELS

Horse blankets are believed to have suggested the idea of the splendid tattersall cloth. The name comes from the famous Tattersall auction rooms in London, where the horses' blankets usually were made with checks.

Color Range Gives Home Spring "Lift"

There are times when every home needs the so called "lift". It may be a new carpet that bestows the warmth of a new color, changing the entire appearance of a room, or it may be new draperies made in generous folds that add the charm. Whatever changes you plan to make seek the advice of the experts for decorating mistakes can be costly ones.

Many home-maker books offer floor plans and actual swatches of fabrics so that you can easily blend the old with the new. If its carpeting you are looking for ask to see the newest ones in viscose. They are in exciting colors and come with a deep rich pile. Because the man-made fibre dyes so well you can have your carpets made to specification in any shade you choose. This will give your home that look of custom decoration.

John Insley, modelling for the Cliff Insley store at the B. and P. club fashion show wears a nylon-rayon blend cloth, treated to be crease resistant, non-staining and moth proof. It is tailored in the single breasted link button style, featuring whip stitch lapels.

EASY TO LOOK AT

Klad creation combined both crepe and bengaline in the very popular after-dark blue with robe red trim. Completing the costume was a small, head-hugging straw in red with white by Maggie Rouffe.

Masculine Trends

The fashion show didn't neglect the man in your life, regardless of his age. With a shrug of his shoulder, young Robert Rowland got the show off to a fine start when he appeared for the Jack and Jill Shoppe in his man-tailored navy gabardine topcoat. Smart checked long, a white shirt with sleeveless sweater and matching bow tie completed Bob's outfit.

Victor Higginson, modelling for Morrison's Men's Wear, first showed a navy topcoat made from a fine English all-wool Angora cloth. Under the single breasted coat, Vic wore a double breasted American lounge style suit in a fine stripe imported worsted.

On his next appearance on the runway, Vic modelled the newest style in a young man's suit for spring. English wool gabardine was used in the American lounge style, this time in a single breasted model. The coat featured one link button which gave a long rolling lapel. The half-rounded lapels were another new note.

The Coronation influence was seen in the men's stylings when Morrison's presented the Coronation jacket. The two front panels were of purple velvet. An embroidered crest adorned the breast patch pocket and a contrasting note was provided by the light hounds-tooth check cloth in the sleeves, back and lapels. Plain brown worsted slacks were worn with the jacket.

The conventional blue blazer and grey flannel slacks at one time were seen more often in Officers' Messes and clubs. But, now they have been taken over by the younger set as well. Jack Fraser Stores showed this informal outfit with the jacket tailored of English all-wool flannel in a style which combined easy fitting comfort with the neat, smooth lines of the lounge model.

Vern Hutchinson appeared for Jack Fraser's in a more casual teen-age style. The slacks were made from one of the many new wonder fabrics on the market which combine wearability with appearance. The sports jacket will be a certain hit with teenagers.

The new "Breather" jacket of corduroy, treated to be water-repellant and stain-resistant, was presented by Jack Fraser Stores. It is a completely new style of windbreaker and features inset panels of elastic knit wool.

Modelling the spring feature "Stratoliner" corduroy jacket for Cliff Insley's was John Insley. With it he wore all-wool blue slacks in a diagonal basket weave. John's next appearance was in a more tailored outfit. His English all-wool gabardine topcoat tailored by Biltmore was in the popular single breasted style with slash pockets. It featured a box back and had a three-quarter lining.

Slim And Trim

A classic suit-dress in cool powder blue was shown by Dawson's Specialty Shoppe. Miss Mary Blackwell was the model. The suit with its sliver-slim skirt was topped by a softly draped jacket whose large and gently rounded lapels were emphasized with navy binding.

Over this suit-dress Miss Blackwell wore a wool fleece, casually styled coat in pink. There was one big jewelled button, a reminder of Coronation year. Completing the picture was a crisp taffeta hat in navy and color-matched gloves and purse.

The popular knitted suits of this season that have appeared in such captivating shades were shown at the fashion show. The two-piece Boucle modelled by Miss Margaret Cullen featured a finely ribbed skirt which gave a slenderizing effect. It was in a shrimp cocktail shade. The 1953 spring look could be found in the tawing sleeves, rounded Peter Pan collar and dainty shoulder pattern.

Over her knitted suit, Miss Cullen wore a Posluns Poodle cloth coat in champagne with three-quarter length sleeve. Her chapeau was in natural shade straw trimmed with bright artificial fruit.

Fashion Is Ageless

Fashion knows no age limits. In the show presented by the local B and P club the young miss of four and the maternally grandmother found what they wanted for the Easter parade. The diminutive models appearing for the newly opened Kiddies' Korner and the Jack and Jill Shoppe could have stepped out of a fairy tale.

A yellow organdy party frock was modelled by Kristie Hall. Its fragile prettiness belied its practicability for the commentator noted that it would launder beautifully.

"A dream walking" was the description of the next model, Jacqueline Gordon who was also ready for a party in her yellow Orton. This new wonder fabric makes even very fussy styles easy to wash and even easier to dry. Under the dainty dress was a camisole top slip complete with hoop, to make the delicate skirt stand out like a springtime butterfly.

For the fashion conscious high-schooler and business girl were many lovely ensembles. Miss Marnie Closs, appearing for Harry's Dry Goods, modelled an outfit featuring this season's popular separates: skirts, blouses and sweaters which you can mix or match. In this instance, Marnie chose a charcoal grey taffeta skirt styled with numerous all-round rolled gores and topped with a shadow weight snow-white nylon blouse. The blouse had silk embroidery trim and balloon sleeves.

Miss Eleanor Hughson stepped forward ready for spring '53 in a pearl grey "Tweedaire" suit. The skirt was pencil slim with the jacket being slightly padded at the hipline. Over this suit Eleanor wore a bright red short topper with suede finish.

Miss Shirley Grainger modelled a junior misses' size 12 coat in rosewood nylon and wool blended cloth from Doris' Ladies Wear. It had a Peter Pan collar and the sleeves were trimmed with deep scalloped cuffs. The bonnet style hat worn by Shirley was in white crepe straw with a turned-back cuff-brim. A velvet bow and a bunch of spring flowers nestled on one side. Her gloves of white chamois suede and her bag of navy plastic were from Doris' Ladies' Wear as well.

For the Chainway Stores Ltd., Miss Dawn Gilman modelled a flare turn-about skirt which gave two skirts for the price of one, since it can be worn with the pleats and buttons to the front or turned about showing the slash pockets as a front design. With this, Dawn wore a sleeveless denim topper with its catching cap.

One of the loveliest costumes modelled at the fashion show and by one of the most charming of the models was the ensemble presented by Doris' Ladies' Wear and shown by Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards.

Over a fine corded silk crepe in Lady Love Orchid shade, trimmed with matching lace inserted at the yoke, Mrs. Edwards wore a grey kid jacket. The jacket, fashioned in one of the latest styles had a softly rippled back and deep sleeves with adjustable length cuffs.

Two small rhinestone pins added a touch of brightness. The small close-fitting hat, fashioned in nylon braid, was in a soft orchid shade with clusters of spring flowers at each side. Black gloves and hand-bag matched the shoes and sheer nylon hose in Avalon, a mauve grey shade, completed the outfit.

Today's New Materials

Several dresses were modelled by their creators. From material purchased at the Silk and Linen shop, Miss Peggy Ward modelled a ballerina length blue shot taffeta dress which she had made herself. The dress had an empire waistline with gathered bodice and V neckline. The material which shimmered and gleamed with every movement was shown off to excellent advantage in the full gathered skirt. Another dress made of materials from the Silk and Linen Shoppe was modelled by Miss Bernice Davis. This lovely powder blue nylon plisse dress has a permanent finish and washes like a hankie. It needs no ironing. The accompanying slip was of ice blue slipper satin. Miss Davis made her ensemble.

A new rust velvet with the lustrous chiffon finish and fast-color pile that looks like new, even after dry-cleaning, was used in a fitted coat modelled by Mrs. Arlie Wright. The lining of Matching shot taffeta was repeated in the dress made of the same material.

Spring Raincoats Modelled On Topcoat Outlines

Not every Spring bursts forth full and fair. Many creep in with damp, gray days and the steady drip, drip drip of week-long rain. Some of these chilling days come every Spring and then raincoats with full protection features prove their worth.

Rainwear mirrors this year's topcoat styles. The newest is the single-breasted, raglan sleeve (rounded shoulder) model with balmacaan collar. Not as new in appearance but leading in popularity is the single-breasted model with inset sleeves, fly front and notch collar.

Raincoat fabrics follow the general trend in topcoat fabrics when they are made of wool. The "wool look" is the name derived from fashion preference for textured wools such as sax-onies, chevots, tweeds, etc., and it is heavily represented in rainwear.

First to come to mind among the naturally waterproof fabrics is worsted wool gabardine, for its ability to shed water was known in Shakespeare's time. Other waterproof wool fabrics are known, and many wool fabrics, are also used with a waterproof treatment. Considerably more of a newcomer to rainwear fabrics is the self-sealing cotton weave which expands when wet and is waterproofed only enough to hold out moisture until the fibers are swollen.

Lighter Shoes Put Spring In Men's Steps

There will be plenty of spring in men's steps this Spring, thanks to growing emphasis on lighter weight in both business and casual shoes.

Shoes of fine, smooth-grained leathers are available in a galaxy of styles designed to complement textured fabrics for Spring.

White shoes for business wear include many variations of the traditional brogue, as well as medallion-tips and plain-toe models, the biggest news in footwear is being made by slip-on models.

Although some of these are offered as shoes which "bring at-home comfort to the office"—such as the slip-on wing-tip model and the slip-on brogue—most of them have a man's leisure hours in mind.

Styles Offer Variety
Among them are slip-ons which combine leather with nylon mesh, and those which blend different colors and textures of leather. The tassel, used as a replacement for eyelets and laces, plays an important role in the styling of many such shoes. Tassel moccasins are offered as top styles for resort wear and casual hours at home.

Suedes, shawl tongues, strap-over models, ventilated models, and novel cordovans are also available in a range of styles.

Newest color to gain men's favor in leather and shoe styles of all types is amberstone—a light, brown shade of leather which makes a perfect style companion for the lighter coloring to be seen in every item of apparel from the smart practical all-wool tropical worsted suit to sports shirts and Bermuda walking shorts. Despite the popularity of the slip-on, two-eyelet and three-eyelet sports shoes are still very much in favor, and will be seen in a variety of colors and leather-textures which co-ordinate with the season's "wool look" in fabrics and with the "natural silhouette" in styling. All in all, it's a year of comfort in men's shoes.

Clothes Make Fisherman Better Angler

"The earlier the better" is the plan the true fishing enthusiast prefers in scheduling his first fishing trip of the year. For he knows that the early weeks of the season bring big catches, and that real enjoyment of the sport is at its height.

No matter how ardent an enthusiast he is, however, he knows that his pleasure in this favorite sport will fall short of expectations if he is not comfortably clad for cold days.

For this reason, the sportsman makes careful preparations for his first trip. While his fishing tackle and camping equipment are his first consideration, he is careful to select plenty of protective clothing and to plan his attire to meet the extremes of weather.

The qualities he seeks in every item of apparel are warmth and absorbency, and he plans his clothing from head to toe. While hip boots or knee boots—depending on "his" type of fishing—are standard equipment, he knows the importance of extra pairs of warm socks for the many hours he may stand in icy waters. And long wool underwear—which the city dweller considers a vanishing item of apparel—is a "must" with most early Spring fishermen.

SUITS ARE SLEEK

Beau Blue is the name of the Coronation color used in Josha's all viscose suit. The fabric is woven with a tiny dot and fashioned into this softly tailored dressmaker model.

FOR A CHANGE

Contrasting styles give a man the same variety in his day-to-day choice of shirts which he enjoys in selecting his suits. Top: the bandless "comfort collar" in a blue-on-white polka-dot model with medium collar points; left: the button-down model with rounded collar points in white oxford cloth; bottom: the "neat look" in a blue and gray striped shirt with short collar points and a medium collar spread.

A "MUST" FOR FISHERMEN

Best bet for a big catch is early Spring fishing. This favored sport of Canadian men requires not only adequate equipment, but proper protective clothing—clothing which combines warmth, absorbency, resilience and durability. With the traditional all-wool mackinaw, favored outer jacket of cold-weather fishermen, this enthusiast wears warm trousers of soft, all-wool tweed and rubber hip-boots.

Miss Norma Mitchell, modelling for Dawson's, shows a blue-mix suit with matching stole, the season's number one fashion accessory.

AFTER EASTER SERVICES

Leaving church on Easter, this family reflects over-all good taste in its selection of clothes. Dad's suit is mill-finished navy blue flannel—a three-button model with flap pockets and center vent. Coordinating with it are a single-breasted, fly-front topcoat in long-wearing all-wool gabardine; a brown felt snap-brim hat; a red and silver brocade tie, and a white broadcloth shirt. The young man of the family sports a raglan-sleeve topcoat of light-weight brown tweed, with matching cap, while his mother wears a princess fitted coat of fancy boucle tweed in brown, green and white.
